CONTENTS

	General introduction and outline of the thesis	7
Part I	Do skin fibroblasts in vitro mirror the aging process?
Chapter 1	MicroRNA-663 induction upon oxidative stress in human fibroblasts depends on chronological age	17
Chapter 2	DNA damage markers in dermal fibroblasts in vitro reflect chronological donor age	33
Chapter 3	Do senescence markers correlate in vitro and in situ within individual donors?	51
Part II	Does skin tissue mirror the aging process?
Chapter 4	Morphometric skin characteristics dependent on chronological and biological age: the Leiden Longevity Study	69
Chapter 5	The number of p16INK4a positive cells in human skin reflects biological age	91
Chapter 6	The numbers of p16INK4a positive cells in human skin: indicative of skin histology and perceived age	103
Part III	Does skin senescence mirror aging in vivo?
Chapter 7	Markers of cellular senescence and chronological age: a systematic review of the literature	127
Chapter 8	Assessment of health status by molecular measures, ready for clinical use?	153
	Summary and discussion	175
	Nederlandse samenvatting	183
	List of publications	191
	Dankwoord / Acknowledgements	193
	Curriculum Vitae	195
