Acknowledgements

This work would not have come to light without the help generously offered by many.

For help on the scientific level, I am indebted to Dr Umar Ryad for putting me in contact with Al-Hilālī's family and helping me to get access to some of Al-Hilālī's archive. I hereby submit my gratitude to Al-Hilālī's grandson, 'Abd al-Ghanī Būzakrī , who helped me to gain access to Al-Hilālī 's personal archive which made it possible for me to conduct this research. I also thank Muḥammad Kadewi, George Muishout and Ronald Kron for reading my chapters and Rosemary Robson-McKillop for editing my English writing.

My family has supported me tremendously during this research. I dedicate this work to my dearest mother, Aicha Fadil for her kindness, tenderness and for her endless support. I am most grateful to my wife, I could not have done any of this study without her support and patience. My daughters Fatima Zahra and Maryam, my sons Imran and Taqī al-Dīn were a source of motivation and inspiration during my work. Lastly and not least my brothers, Muḥammad, Nouredine, Said, Abdelhadi and my sisters Naima and Nazha deserve many thanks for their encouragements, advice and for sharing with me the most memorable moments in life. This work is in memory of my father Ali El Amraoui.
