Curriculum vitae

Rikardo Simarmata obtained a bachelor degree in law from the Faculty of Law of Gadjah Mada University, Yogyakarta, in 1997. During his years at the university, he was actively involved in a number of student organizations, in particular in the student press. From 1998 up to 2001, he worked at the Institute for Policy Research and Social Advocacy (Lembaga Studi dan Advokasi Masyarakat), a Jakarta-based human rights NGO. In 2001, together with other NGO activists and university lecturers, he established a new NGO called Community and Ecology Based Society for Law Reform or HUMA. He has conducted numerous research projects on forestry, fishery and land issues in relation to the rights of indigenous peoples, as well as facilitated several training sessions on policy analysis, critical thinking on law and legal drafting. In 2007 he was accepted as a PhD researcher at the Van Vollenhoven Institute of Leiden University. In the roles of NGO activist and consultant, he wrote a number of books. These include Otonomi Daerah Kecenderungan Karakter Perda dan Tekanan Baru bagi Lingkungan dan Masyarakat Adat: Sebuah Diagnosa Awal [Regional Autonomy and the Character of Local Government Laws and Regulations: New Pressures on the Environment and Indigenous Communities] (2002) and Pengakuan Hukum terhadap Masyarakat Adat di Indonesia [Legal Recognition of Indigenous Peoples in Indonesia] (2006). In addition, he wrote a number of articles which were published both in international and national journals.
