Curriculum Vitae

Ingeborg Marieke Noppers was born on the 29th of October 1981 in Emmen, the Netherlands. She obtained her VWO diploma at the Hondsrug College in Emmen in June 2000. Later that year she entered Medical School at the Rijksuniversiteit Groningen. She received her Medical Degree in September 2006 and began working as a resident in the Intensive Care department of the University Medical Center Groningen. Early 2008 she was appointed as a PhD student at the department of Anesthesiology in the Leiden University Medical Center under the supervision of Prof. Dr. A Dahan and Dr. EY Sarton and started the investigations described in this thesis. She started her residency in Anesthesiology in October 2010. As of April 2011 she started her medical specialist training at the department of Anesthesiology in the Leiden University Medical Center (Chairman: Prof. Dr. LPHJ Aarts).
