Explanation of the cover

The title has been depicted in the form of an individual's life span from conception (left) where all creativity is present (red circle) to the quietness of death (white horizontal line). This progression through time is affected by environmental (green circle) and genetic (blue circle) factors.

Contents

General introduction	1
Chapter one	15
The effects of larval density on adult life history traits in three species of Drosophila
Chapter two	35
A test of the thrifty phenotype hypothesis in Drosophila melanogaster
Chapter three	51
Multi-trait evolution in lines of D. melanogaster selected for increased starvation resistance; the role of metabolic rate and implications for the evolution of longevity.
Chapter four	75
The interaction between food condition and life span in two sets of D. melanogaster lines selected for increased longevity and increased starvation resistance
Chapter five	91
Gene expression patterns of starvation resistant D. melanogaster under fed and starved conditions
Chapter six	119
Methuselah life history in a variety of conditions, implications for the use of mutants in longevity research
Summarising discussion	139
Literature cited	153
Nederlandstalige samenvatting	165
Omgevings- en genetische factoren die levensloop eigenschappen beïnvloeden
Acknowledgements	183
