Curriculum vitae

Luz Marina Veth-Tello was born in Santafe de Bogota, Colombia, on 13th November 1962. She obtained her degree in biology at the Universidad del Valle (Cali, Colombia) in 1987. She worked for a year as research assistant at the Centro International de Agricultura Tropical (CIAT) Cali, Colombia. From 1989 to 1991 she was the manager of the propagation department of a Chrysanthemum and Gerbera farm located near Cali (Colombia). In August 1991 she moved to Szeged, Hungary, to join the group of Dr. L. Szabados and Dr. C. Koncz at the Biological Research Center as holder of a fellowship from the international UNESCO commission for a year training course on plant molecular biology. After this training she came to The Netherlands where she joined for five months the group of Prof dr. R. Verpoorte at the Center of BioPharmaceutical Sciences, Leiden University, as guest researcher. From September 1993 to April 1995 she was student at the university of Leiden where she obtained her doctoraal (MSc) diploma in biology with specialization in molecular biology. From July 1995 to January 2000 she worked as PhD student at the Institute of Molecular Plant Sciences of the same university in the group of Prof. dr. P.J.J. Hooykaas under the supervision of Dr. E.J. van der Zaal. After this period she worked as guest-researcher at the same institution to finish her thesis. Since September 2004 she is working at the department of registration of the College ter Beoordeling van Geneesmiddelen - Medicines Evaluation Board (CBG-MEB) in The Netherlands.
