

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Making the invisible visible : the position of indigenous women in Mexico. A general overview of the challenges ahead

Ortiz, Barbara

Citation

Ortiz, B. (2016, February 23). Making the invisible visible : the position of indigenous women in Mexico. A general overview of the challenges ahead. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/38182>

Version: Corrected Publisher's Version

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/38182>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cover Page

Universiteit Leiden

The handle <http://hdl.handle.net/1887/38182> holds various files of this Leiden University dissertation.

Author: Ortiz, Barbara

Title: Making the invisible visible : the position of indigenous women in Mexico. A general overview of the challenges ahead

Issue Date: 2016-02-23

MAKING THE INVISIBLE VISIBLE:
THE POSITION OF INDIGENOUS WOMEN IN MEXICO
A General Overview of the Challenges Ahead

Barbara Ortiz

MAKING THE INVISIBLE VISIBLE:
THE POSITION OF INDIGENOUS WOMEN IN MEXICO
A General Overview of the Challenges Ahead

Proefschrift
ter verkrijging van de graad van Doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van Rector Magnificus prof. mr. C.J.J.M. Stolker, volgens besluit van het College voor Promoties te verdedigen op dinsdag 23 februari 2016
klokke 16.15 uur
door

Barbara Ortiz

geboren te Borgerhout (Antwerpen) in 1984

Promotores

Prof. Dr. Maarten E.R.G.N. Jansen

Prof. Dr. Antonella Cammarota (Università degli Studi di Messina)

Promotiecommissie

Prof. Dr. Corinne L. Hofman, decaan Faculteit der Archeologie (voorzitter)

Prof. Dr. Jan C.A. Kolen

Prof. Dr. Willem F.H. Adelaar

Dr. Sabina Aguilera Madrigal (Freie Universität, Berlin)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

LIST OF FIGURES	ix
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	xi
I. INTRODUCTION	1
A. Making the Invisible Visible	4
B. Methodology	8
C. Mexican Anthropology: Where Are the Women?	11
D. Definition of Indigenous Peoples	14
II. THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK	17
A. Towards a Feminist Anthropology	18
B. Addressing Male Bias in Anthropology	22
C. Postcolonial Feminism	24
About Saving Women	26
D. Analysis of Anthropological Works	28
1. Millán – El cuerpo de la nube. Jerarquía y simbolismo ritual en la cosmovisión de un pueblo huave	29
2. Olavarria – El cuerpo flor. Etnografía de una noción yoeme	31
3. Monaghan – The Covenants with Earth and Rain: Exchange, Sacrifice, and Revelation in Mixtec Sociality	32
4. Dehouve – La ofrenda sacrificial entre los tlapanecos de Guerrero	34
E. Feminist Anthropology in Mexico	35
F. Conclusion	37
III. HISTORICAL CONTEXT: THE FEMINIST MOVEMENT	38
A. First Wave: A Feminism of Equal Rights	39
1. First Feminist Wave in the West	39
2. Early and First Wave Feminism in Mexico	41
B. Second Wave: A Feminism of Women's Liberation	44
1. Theoretical Base	44
2. Second Wave Activism in the West	46
3. Historical Feminism in Mexico	47
C. Third Wave: Against Universal Womanhood	48
1. Postcolonial and Postmodern Critiques	48
2. The United Nations and Women	49
3. Popular and Civil Feminism in Mexico	50
4. Indigenous Feminism in Mexico	51
D. Conclusion	57

IV. WOMEN AND HEALTH CARE IN MEXICO: THE NEED FOR EDUCATION, PREVENTION, AND AN INTERCULTURAL APPROACH	59
A. General Health Care Situation in Mexico	63
B. Reproductive Health: The Right to Decide and the Importance of Education in Preventing Health Risks for Women	66
1. Family Planning and Contraception	67
2. Teenage Pregnancies and Early Marriage: Limiting Emancipation	71
3. Abortion: A Taboo Topic	74
4. Forced Sterilization of Indigenous Peoples	77
5. Women's Cancers: Another Example of the Lack of Information	79
6. The Need for Sexual Education and Prevention	80
C. Maternal Health: Illustrating the Need for an Intercultural Approach to Health Care in Mexico	81
1. Maternal Mortality in Indigenous Regions: Indicator of a Larger Problem	81
2. Health in an Intercultural Context	83
3. A Role for Traditional Medicine: The ' Parteras ' and the Humanization of Delivery	88
D. Conclusion	94
V. FEMALE POLITICAL PARTICIPATION: CONQUERING SPACES	98
A. National Policy on Female Political Participation	101
1. Mexican Gender Quota: The Gap Between Candidacy and Election	103
2. The Use of ' Juanitas ': Getting Around Gender Quota	104
3. Other Government Initiatives Regarding Female Political Participation	107
B. Female Voters	109
C. Eligible Women	111
1. National Level	111
2. State Level	121
3. Municipal Level	124
D. Indigenous Women and Politics: Between Tradition and Modernity	127
1. The Trap of Tradition? ' Usos y Costumbres ' in Indigenous Municipalities	128
2. Working with the Available Data: The Case of Oaxaca	130
3. Structural Obstacles for Indigenous Women in Politics	134
4. Cultural Obstacles: "Tú cállate, tú eres mujer, no sabes nada."	136
5. Changing Times: Defying Traditions and Social Structures	142
6. Are Indigenous Women Not Participating?	144
7. Movement of Indigenous Women: Activism and Leadership	149
E. Conclusions	154

VI. THE IMAGE OF WOMEN IN MEXICAN MEDIA: FIGHTING STEREOTYPES	158
A. Female Gender in Mexican Media: A General Overview	162
1. Women Working in Mexican Media: The Struggle for Equality.....	163
2. Women in Mexican Media Content: The Female Body at the Service of Men.....	169
B. The Representation of Indigenous Women in Mexican Visual Culture: Historical Context	174
1. La India Bonita : The Creation of a Stereotype.....	178
2. Consolidation of a Stereotype	181
C. Making the Invisible Visible: Indigenous Women in Mexican Media.....	187
1. Television As a Role Model.....	188
2. Absence of Indigenous Women on Mexican Television.....	189
3. Influence of Television on the Indigenous Self-Esteem	194
D. Conclusion.....	197
VII. EDUCATION IN MEXICO: BRINGING ABOUT CHANGE, OR REPRODUCING INEQUALITY?	200
A. Types of Education in Mexico.....	206
1. Schooling Level	207
2. Modalities of Education	208
B. General Problems in Mexican Education	213
1. Dominance of the Teachers' Unions.....	213
2. Unequal Distribution of Education Resources.....	214
3. Poor Infrastructure and Lack of Educational Material	214
4. Professionalization of Mexican Teachers	215
5. Efforts to Evaluate Mexican Education	216
C. Education in Rural and Indigenous Regions: The Need to Adapt to Varying Teaching Contexts.....	219
1. History of Rural and Indigenous Education: In Pursuit of a Homogenized Mexican Nation.....	219
2. Obstacles for Rural Education	221
3. Current Situation of Indigenous or Bilingual Education	222
4. Racism and Discrimination of Indigenous Children	226
D. Gender Policies in Mexican Education: More Than Good Intentions?	229
1. Legal Context.....	229
2. Equal Access to Education.....	230
3. Gender in Mexican Textbooks.....	231
4. And in Practice.....	232
5. Indigenous Girls in Mexican Education	234
E. Conclusion	238
"We Are Educated, But Now What?"	240

VII. GENERAL CONCLUSION	243
A. Making the Invisible Visible.....	243
Addressing the Male Bias.....	243
Women and Health Care in Mexico: The Need for Education, Prevention, and an Intercultural Approach	245
Female Political Participation: Conquering Spaces.....	246
The Image of Women in Mexican Media: Fighting Stereotypes	247
Education in Mexico: Bringing About Change, or Reproducing Inequality?.....	249
B. For Future Research.....	252
Gender Based Violence.....	252
Migration: Shifts and Evolutions in Gender Relations	254
Domestic Work.....	255
Discrimination of Indigenous Women Within the Mexican Justice System	255
C. Final Remarks	256
Prevailing Machismo	256
Racism and Interiorized Discrimination	256
Institutionalized Discrimination	257
The Need for Reliable Official Statistics	258
Agency of Indigenous Women	259
Valorization of Indigenous Knowledge	260
Towards a Socially Engaged Discipline.....	261
BIBLIOGRAPHY	264
Audiovisual Material.....	293
Interviews	294
ENGLISH SUMMARY	295
NEDERLANDSE SAMENVATTING	299
PROPOSITIONS	304
CURRICULUM VITAE	306

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure 1:	Percentage of women between 15 and 49 years by use and knowledge of contraceptive methods, Mexico, 2009.....	68
Figure 2:	Percentage of women between 15 and 49 years, living in a union, and using contraceptive methods, per federal entity, Mexico, 2009.....	70
Figure 3:	Percentage of women between 15 and 49 years according to their use of contraceptives during their first sexual relation, per age group, Mexico, 2009.....	70
Figure 4:	Estimated annual number of unsafe abortions per 1000 women aged 15–44 years, by sub regions, 2008.....	76
Figure 5:	Percentage of pregnancies according to the type of delivery for each federative entity, Mexico (Last pregnancy occurred between 2004 and 2009).....	92
Figure 6a:	Members of the federal Chamber of Deputies, by sex, Mexico, 1997-2015.....	118
Figure 6b:	Members of the federal Chamber of Deputies, by sex, Mexico, 1997-2015.....	118
Figure 7a:	Senators, by sex, Mexico, 1994-2015.....	119
Figure 7b:	Senators, by sex, Mexico, 1994-2015.....	119
Figure 8:	Gender quota in electoral state legislations, and proportion of female and male deputies in the state congresses, Mexico, 2012 and 2014.....	123
Figure 9:	Presence of women and men in the political structures, Mexico (2011, 2012, 2014).....	126
Figure 10:	Women elected as counselor in the municipalities following the ‘usos y costumbres’ for the period 2011-2013, Oaxaca, Mexico.....	133
Figure 11:	Screenshots of the ForoTV weather forecast with Mayte Carranco, October 23 – November 1, 2012.....	165
Figure 12:	María Bibiana Uribe, El Universal , September 15, 1921.....	179
Figure 13:	María Bibiana Uribe “La India Bonita”. Cover of El Universal Ilustrado , August 17, 1921.....	179
Figure 14:	Jesús Helguera, Carreta tehuana	183
Figure 15:	Jesús Helguera, Cuquita y la fuente , Oil on canvas, 1953.....	183
Figure 16:	Jesús Helguera, La michoacana , Oil on canvas.....	184
Figure 17:	María Candelaria (MX, 1943), screenshot with Dolores del Río and Pedro Armendáriz.....	185
Figure 18:	La Jornada , 15th of January 2012.....	193
Figure 19:	Equivalence of the National Educational System with the International Standard Classification of Education.....	206
Figure 20:	General scheme of the Mexican national educational system. Educational school services	209
Figure 21:	Percentage of students in preschool education per educational service, Mexico, 2013.....	212
Figure 22:	Percentage of students in primary education per educational service, Mexico, 2013.....	212
Figure 23:	Percentage of students in secondary education per educational service, Mexico, 2013.....	212

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

For this research, I traveled a winding road with numerous obstacles. All along, I was lucky to have many people by my side who encouraged and supported me. I wish to thank them all for their contributions to this project. It allowed me to learn and grow; it was an experience that changed me and the way I look at the world.

First, I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Maarten Jansen, for his guidance throughout this entire process, his patience, comprehension, and trust, and for being an extraordinary motivator. Thank you for always giving me just the push I needed to believe in my own research. I also thank Dr. Antonella Cammarota, for her constructive comments and suggestions.

I am indebted to the Center for Mexican Studies of the University of Antwerp, for providing the ideal working conditions and flexibility to carry out my research; and for always taking a sincere interest in the progress of my project.

I also wish to thank Philippe Bermann, for allowing me to spend time at the Casa del Estudiante Triqui, for his trust and enthusiasm; and the students of the Casa del Estudiante Triqui, especially the girls, for sharing their time, experiences, dreams, and laughter with me.

Thank you to Sofía Robles (Ser Mixe), María Teresa Cruz (IMO Oaxaca), Adriana Márquez Altamirano (ex-becaria Casa de la Mujer “Rosario Castellanos” Oaxaca), María del Rosario Martínez Miguel (Casa de la Mujer “Rosario Castellanos” Oaxaca), Araceli Gil (Nueve Lunas), Dr. Soledad González Montes (PIEM, Colegio de México), and Dr. Jeanett Reynoso Noverón (Centro de Lingüística Hispánica, UNAM), for the valuable time and information they generously shared with me; and especially Judith Bautista Pérez, Zaira Alhelí Hipólito López, and Flor Julián Santiago, who inspired me with their strength, intelligence, and motivation.

Heartfelt thanks to Sylvia Mohr, for so meticulously proofreading my text and improving my English.

Thank you to my friends in Belgium and Leiden, who gave indispensable pep talks, offered welcome distraction, and were there when I needed them. By sharing the burden they lightened the load!

Thanks in particular to Dr. Araceli Rojas Martínez Gracida, for her support, both on an academic and personal level, for inspiring me, and always finding the right words. Es en los momentos difíciles que uno conoce a sus amigos. ¡Gracias...!

Thank you to my family in Mexico, for their love and support in this adventure. Thank you to Graciela Pinet Cabrera for sharing her experiences as a primary school teacher. A very special thanks to the Ortiz Castro and Ortiz Merino families as well as María del Socorro Ortiz Ugalde, for providing a truly warm and welcoming home while I was in Mexico, and for taking care of me in infinite ways.
¡Gracias de todo corazón!

I am thankful to my family in Belgium, my brother, my grandmother, for their encouragements and patience. It's finally finished!

Last but not least, I cannot thank my parents enough for their support, board and lodging during the last intensive months of my research, but also for their boundless faith in my capacities. My mother, for showing me how to be a strong woman; my father, for being a feminist, and educating me as such. For teaching me to love my roots. For giving me all the opportunities in life a person could wish for, for pushing me to keep on learning every day and find my own way.