ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My sincere gratitude goes out to my supervisors Frans de Haas and Herman Siemens for guiding me in the process of writing this dissertation.

Also, I wish to thank OIKOS both for funding the four years of the PhD and for allowing me to participate in many interesting workshops. Presenting some of my work in 2014 in Athens, at NIA, will remain one of the best memories of my PhD. My gratitude also goes to the OZSW for the several ways in which they stimulated my research.

The many Nietzsche Seminars I attended have been extremely valuable. I wish to thank Herman Siemens and Paul van Tongeren for their dedication; but also Ciano Aydin, Levi van den Bogaard, André van der Braak, Reina Brouwer, Frank Chouraqui, Dick van Dam, Enes Hakan, Wolter Hartog, Florian Häubi, Katia Hay, Janske Hermens, Razvan Ioan, Philip Lepers, Bas Nabers, Max Noordhoek, Gaila Panders, James Pearson, Martine Prange, and Isabelle Wienand for their consistently high quality input and discussion. My heartfelt thanks go to the family Benders for hosting the meeting in April 2014 on the articles of the Nietzsche-Wörterbuch, and to the participants for their insightful remarks then.

In 2015 I worked with Keith Ansell-Pearson at Warwick University. I thank him for the enjoyable reading groups we had, Levi van den Bogaard for our invigorating conversations, and David Rowthorn, Matthew Dennis, William Knowles McIntire, Thom Ryan and Sander Werkhoven for welcoming me in the group of (Nietzsche-) PhD's.

I also wish to express my gratitude to my colleagues in Leiden; Jeroen Bouterse, Frank Chouraqui, Thomas Fossen, Victor Gijsbers, Carolyn de Greef, Stephen Harris, Nathanja van den Heuvel, Bart Karstens, Joachim Nieuwland, Tim Meijers, Martine Prange, Renée van Riessen, Carlos Roos Muñoz, Jeroen van Rijen, Maria van der Schaar, Jan Sleutels, Jorrit Smit, Karineke Sombroek, Rozemund Uljée, and Bruno Verbeek; especially the morning coffees with Lies Klumper left me good memories. I thank Symposium for inviting me twice to present some of my research.

Of indispensable significance have been the monthly meetings with Nathanja van den Heuvel, Ike Gerritse and Selma Tummers. Also the conversations I had with Keimpe Algra, Bert van den Berg, Edith Brugmans, Marije Martijn, Ineke Sluiter, and Gerard Visser contributed greatly. The writing, moreover, went best during my stays in Schoten in the 'Priorij Regina Pacis'; I thank all the nuns there for their support.

Finally, I thank Selma Tummers and Aliza Glasbergen-Plas as my paranymphs, and my friends and my family (in particular my parents and sisters) for their never-ending confidence in me. I thank Michiel Meijer, my dear husband since June 2016, for being the best partner I could wish for: he managed to turn even the most difficult days into good memories of a time spent together working as a 'team of philosophers'.

CURRICULUM VITAE

Hedwig Lambertha Johanna Gaasterland werd op 26 mei 1983 geboren in Eindhoven. In 2001 behaalde ze haar gymnasiumdiploma aan s.g. Augustinianum te Eindhoven. Aansluitend studeerde ze Griekse en Latijnse Talen en Culturen en Wijsbegeerte in Leiden. In beide studies behaalde ze een Bachelordiploma in 2007. Ze was bestuurslid bij de culturele studentenvereniging Prometheus in 2002-2003, en organiseerde in 2006 lustrum- en tourneeactiviteiten bij Collegium Musicum. In 2007 begon ze aan de Researchmaster 'Rationality' in Leiden, die ze in 2011 cum laude afrondde. In die periode verbleef ze ruim een halfjaar in Leuven, was ze student-assistente bij Prof. dr. Pauline Kleingeld, en werkte ze parttime als docent aan het Instituut voor Wijsbegeerte in Amsterdam. In februari 2012 begon haar PhD-onderzoek, gesubsidieerd door OIKOS. In 2013 ontwierp en doceerde ze het Mastercollege 'Stoic Images. Assessing the Sources' met Prof. Frans de Haas, en in 2014 ontwikkelde en doceerde ze het Mastercollege 'Nietzsche and Antiquity'. Ze presenteerde haar onderzoek tijdens verschillende OIKOS-activiteiten, o.a. in Athene, en participeerde in verschillende congressen, o.a. georganiseerd door de FNS (Friedrich Nietzsche Society), in Cork (2013) en Scarborough (2015). In 2015 werkte ze twee maanden met Prof. Keith Ansell-Pearson, Warwick University. Van juni 2014 tot september 2015 was ze voorzitter van de PhD Council van de OZSW (de Nederlandse Onderzoeksschool Wijsbegeerte). Vanaf september 2016 is ze als trainee bij het Onderwijstraineeship verbonden als docente klassieke talen bij het Johan de Wittgymnasium in Dordrecht. In juni 2016 trouwde ze met dr. Michiel Meijer.
