Curriculum Vitae

Simon Makuvaza was born on 29 April 1972 at Gutu Mission hospital in Zimbabwe. Makuvaza is currently employed as a Research Fellow at the National University of Science and Technology in Bulawayo, Zimbabwe. He previously worked as a lecturer of archaeology (January-September 2011) at the Catholic University of Malawi in Limbe. From 1997 to 2010, he also had worked as an archaeologist for the National Museums and Monuments of Zimbabwe.

Makuvaza holds an Msc in World Heritage Management (2010) from the University College Dublin in Ireland and a General Masters in Business Administration (2006) from the National University of Science and Technology in Bulawayo. Makuvaza further holds a Bachelor of Arts Special Honours Degree in Archaeology and a Bachelor of Arts General Degree that he both attained from the University of Zimbabwe in 2001 and in 1996 respectively.

Makuvaza has published widely in Zimbabwean and international journals on archaeology and heritage management. He is also the editor of The Management of Cultural World Heritage Sites and Development in Africa: History, Nomination Processes and Representation on the World Heritage List, Springer (2014). His research interests are archaeological heritage management, world heritage management and heritage and local indigenous communities.
