The studies described in this thesis were performed at the Department of Infectious Diseases at the Leiden University Medical Center, Leiden, the Netherlands and at the Armauer Hansen Research Institute, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia and were funded by the Netherlands Leprosy Relief Foundation (NLR) ILEP#: 702.02.65 and ILEP#: 701.02.49 and the Q.M. Gastmann-Wichers Foundation. Additional support for this study was received from NLR (ILEP#: 7.01.02.48) and the Turing Foundation as part of the IDEAL (Initiative for Diagnostic and Epidemiological Assays for Leprosy) Consortium and UNICEF/UNDP/World Bank/WHO Special Programme for Research and Training in Tropical Diseases (TDR).

Publication of this thesis was financially supported by Norad, Sida and U-CyTech Biosciences.
