The Life of Governor Joan Gideon Loten (1710-1789)

A Personal History of a Dutch Virtuoso

John Gideon Loten, F.R.S. & F.S.A.

All joy or sorrow for the happiness or calamities of others is produced by an action of the imagination, that realises the event however fictitious, or approximates it however remote, by placing us for a time, in the condition of him whose fortune we contemplate; so that we feel, while the deception lasts, whatever motion would be excited by the same good or evil happening to ourselves.

Samuel Johnson, The Rambler no 60, 13 October 1750
