<sup>2</sup> Harpur, DETOK, plan 20, specifies that on the second register from the top of the wall 2 offering bearers and 2 priests are depicted. LD, II, 87 gives 5 figures on that register. The priests are considered to be bearers who place their goods on pedestals, because this action does not automatically makes them priests.

<sup>3</sup> In PM, III<sup>1</sup>, plan XXXI the (sub)themes on the walls of niche no. 5 have not been included because the niche is interpreted as a false door. The decoration of the western wall is considered to be complete because the parts that are missing must be seen as parts of the false door.

<sup>4</sup> Roth, Gmast, 6, 107, note 62 states that PM III<sup>1</sup> assigns the mastaba to Nima'etre', which is true for mastaba G 2092a. Roth, Gmast, 6, 109-111 gives blocks (plates 172C, 173A/B and 178) that probably belonged to the western wall. (Sub)themes 3 and 5, which are placed on these blocks, are included in the list. The decoration on the south end of the western wall of the corridor has been included because a false door had been placed on the western wall of this corridor.

<sup>7</sup> On the western wall, between the false doors, Setka has been depicted twice sitting in front of separate offering tables. Priests are standing in front of both of them. A wab-priest has been added to the butchery scene.

<sup>9</sup> Harpur, DETOK, 74 mentions architectural changes as the reason for the reversal of (sub)theme 3 from the southern to the northern wall of the chapel. Indeed in the tombs mentioned there, the entrance has been placed in the southern part of the eastern wall of the L-shaped cult chapel, and not, as usual, in the northern part of that wall (Harpur, DETOK, plans 83 and 93). However, this cannot be the explanation for the reversal in the tomb of Thenti, because this tomb is L-shaped with the entrance on the northern side of the eastern wall.

<sup>13</sup> The panel of the southern false door is in Art Gallery Yale Univ. New Haven (no. 1937.214). This is in contradiction with Junker, Giza IX, 78 where is stated that no false doors were ever present in the cult chapel.

<sup>14</sup> On the false door panel the tomb owner is depicted in a standing position.
