Curriculum Vitae

Marianne Eekhout (Alkmaar, 1984) received her BA degree in history at the University of Groningen in 2006. In the same year she finished her MA degree in the history of political culture at the same university. From 2006 until 2008 she specialized in art history at the University of Groningen (BA) and cultural heritage at Utrecht University (MA). In September 2008 she became a PhD candidate in the NWO-VICI project Tales of the Revolt. Memory, oblivion and identity in the Low Countries, 1566-1700 supervised by Judith Pollmann. During this time she was involved in organizing several conferences such as Voorwerpen maken geschiedenis (Objects make history) at the Huygens ING, was part of the advisory board of the exhibition Vrijheid. Leidens Ontzet at Museum De Lakenhal in Leiden, taught classes in Dutch history, gave public lectures, and co-organized the exhibition Strijd om de herinnering. Verhalen over de Opstand, 1566-1700 at Leiden's university library. Currently she is teaching early modern history at the university of Leiden and dr. Ernst Crone fellow at Het Scheepvaartmuseum (National Maritime Museum) in Amsterdam.
