Appendix to chapter 5

Overview of the text files from Damrum

- Sîn-iddinam, son of Sanīya.¹²⁷¹
Louvre (26 texts), Yale (1 text). This large file has several connections to other files, most strongly to the ones of Dulluqum and Sîn-bāni. Through one person it is also linked to Munanātum.¹²⁷²
- Dulluqum, son of Hadamu.¹²⁷³
Louvre (8 texts). One finds many connections to Sîn-iddinam's dossier. More interesting is the possible link to Šīssu-nawrat's dossier through a man called Šeret-Sîn.¹²⁷⁴
- Ibbi-Ilabrat, son of Puzur-Ilaba.¹²⁷⁵
Louvre (8 texts), Yale (4 texts). This dossier dated to the latter part of Sumu-la-El's reign has only two connections: one to the file of Warad-Sîn, son of Bidānum and one through a scribe to Kubā'um's and Ahūnum's files¹²⁷⁶.

¹²⁷¹ R 1,2,3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 16, 17, 18, 21, 24, 27, 31, 33, 36, 37, 39, 40, 42 and 43, YOS 14 83.

¹²⁷² This is Hābibum son of Lana-El:

¹²⁷³ R 12, 15, 22, 29, 35, 38, 47, 55.

¹²⁷⁴ In the Šīssu-nawrat text BM 103192 a certain Šeret-Sîn son of Nakkurum sells a field next to the canal E-Šulgi. It is by all means not certain whether he is the same man as Šeret-Sîn (no patronym) found in R 35:13 and YOS 14 87:14, but it seems possible because of the rareness of the name Šeret-Sîn.

¹²⁷⁵ R 20, 23, 25, 26, 30, 32, 34 and 46, YOS 14 119, 136, 137 and 143.

- Ṭabāya.¹²⁷⁷
Louvre (6 texts). This dossier seems to stand on its own prosopographically.
- Sukkalum.¹²⁷⁸
Louvre (4 texts). This dossier seems to stand on its own prosopographically.
- Kubā'um.¹²⁷⁹
Louvre (2 texts). This file is connected to Ahūnum's and Ibbi-Ilabrat's file, which are both also dated to the latter part of Sumu-la-El's reign.
- Sîn-bāni, son of Sîn-abūšu.¹²⁸⁰
Louvre (2 texts). This small file is strongly linked to Sîn-iddinam's dossier.
- Kalāya's children.¹²⁸¹
Yale (7 texts), Chicago Oriental Institute (2 texts), Utah State University (1 text). This file is clearly connected to Yerhaqum's sons and to Šū-Ninhursag's file through a scribe.
- Yerhaqum's sons.¹²⁸²
Yale (5 texts), Chicago (1 text), Wadsworth Atheneum (1 text). Strongly connected to the file of Kalāya's children, but also to Warad-Sîn through the scribe Šulpae-ennam¹²⁸³
- Warad-Sîn, son of Bidānum.¹²⁸⁴
Yale (5 texts), Chicago (1 text). Through the scribe Nanna-mansum we have a connection to Šū-Ninhursag. Through Nūr-Šamaš son of Qiš-Nanāya to Ibbi-Ilabrat and through the scribe Šulpae-ennam to Yerhaqum's sons.
- Ahūnum, son of Nūr-Ea.¹²⁸⁵

¹²⁹⁶ Because this text belongs together with SCT 38 and A.32113, it seems likely to me to attribute this yearname to the reign of Haliyūm.

¹²⁹⁷ Goddeeris 2002:284 read Yawium in the oath, Charpin 1978:16 is followed, who prefers to read Abdi-Erah.

¹³⁰¹ Designated as yearname “c” on the list of Damerow and Sigrist, Goddeeris 2002:285 qualifies it as unplaced.

¹³⁰² The yearname rather looks like Sumu-la-El 6, but because of the oath by Zababa and Yawium it has been categorized as Yawium f.

¹³⁰³ Written: ITIEZEN^dIŠKUR.

¹³⁰⁴ Charpin 2005a:172 equates the yearname from R 32 with the ones found on YOS 14 334 and 335.

Sale of a garden. A two iku garden is sold for 26 shekels of silver. The seller can be identified based on his seal: Šissu-nawrat, son of Abum (also known from, RA 8 p. 69 1:27-28 and RSM 38:4-5 on which the same seal features). Prosopographically the tablet belongs to Šumšunu-watar’s file. The original tablet was sawn in half, probably by a dealer, the other half is lost. The fragment BM 103183 found in the same tray has nothing to do with this tablet.

2. This line must tell us something about the field's location, this is why is opted for a reading "sa.dul" which means "rear". A problem nevertheless remains with the signs ur² ki da. We could interpret Urkida-Ningišzida as a personal name, but such a name would be unique. It could also refer to some kind of shrine of Ningišzida.

Comments:

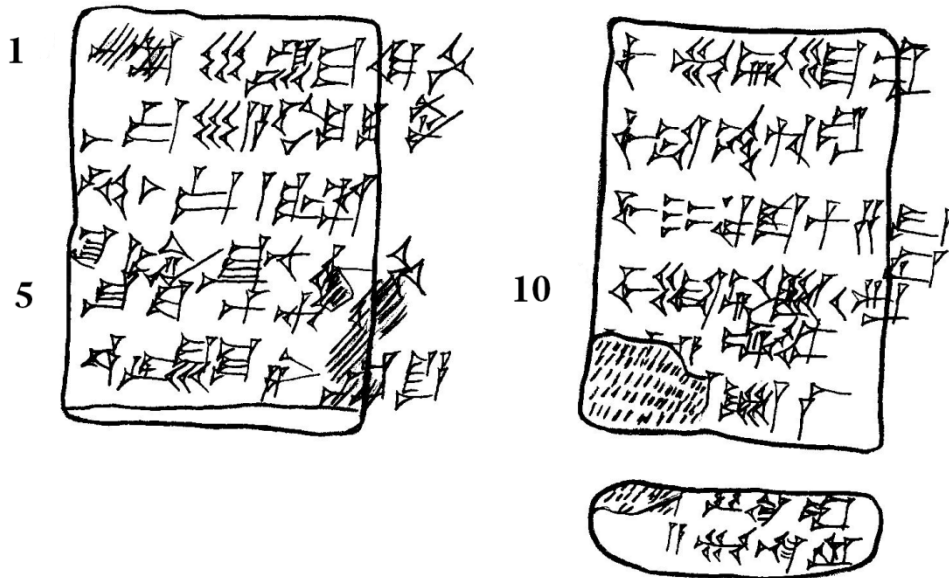

This is the same field that was sold in the same year and month by Bunubalum to Šumšunu-watar in RA 8 7: it has the same size, price and neighbors. The witnesses also are largely the same. Bunubalum must have acted as a middle man for Šumšunu-watar. It is likely that this text and RA 8 7 were written consecutively. Why Šumšunu-watar did not buy the field directly from Warad-Šîn remains a mystery.

This text was written first and it shows some signs of sloppiness: the canal of Sanaya in line 3 is defined in RA 8 7 as 'PA₅ ŠAG₅ sà'-/na-a-a': The 'good' canal (of) Sanaya. The writer Nanna-kiag has also forgotten the sign /wi/ in Arwitānum's name in line 6 and the sign /in/ in the verb in line 16. In addition, the witness Erra-gašer, son of Susinum, is missing in our text. This could also mean of course that both texts were in fact written on two separate moments. The yearname is actually a yearname belonging to Sumu-ditāna of Marad.

Comments:

This type of text occurs more often in Šumšunu-watar's file, see the other examples and explanation in Goddeeris 2002 p. 271-272. We would expect to see the lease of this garden expressed in dates, but Sîn-malik apparently owes Šumšunu-watar an amount of barley as the garden's lease.

This text clearly belongs to YOS 14 114, in which the same garden is bought by Šumšunu-watar from Hasikum for ten and $\frac{2}{3}$ shekels of silver (dated to the same month and year). Šumšunu-watar first buys the field and then leases it to a third party (Sîn-malik). However, the original seller still retains a certain role by sealing the lease and occurring in the text with the sign 'NÍG' and as a witness.

A parallel case is seen in RSM 48 where Kudānum acts as 'NÍG' for a garden leased out by Šumšunu-watar. This garden was probably bought by Šumšunu-watar from Kudānum in YOS 14 110. Incidentally, it borders Hasikum's garden. We see that Šumšunu-watar's purchases concern mostly garden and fields bordering each other. Hasikum and Kudānum were probably brothers and the sons of Halum/Halilum.

This text, has been included here because it is part of the same collection as the other Mananâ-dynasty texts found in the British Museum. In addition, it has all the same features as these texts: same shape, colour and size. This is however not proof that it also belongs to these archives.

8. The name in this line is interesting: Charpin 2004 p. 89 note 320 has proposed Damrum as the main provenance for the Mananâ-dynasty texts.

17. The name of the king is -unfortunately- not very readable. My best guess is that the name could be read as a-bi-a²-nu²-uh². There is no king by that name known to me. However, on a cylinder seal published by Ball in 1899 (p. 20), we have a royal name that vaguely resembles this name. Frayne 1990 E4.0.6 p. 815 reads the seal: ^dŠEŠ-KI.ÁG, DUMU ma-nu-um-ša-ni-in-š[u], IR a-bi-nu-x. This a-bi-nu-x and our a-bi-a²-nu²-uh² have names which look very much alike.

A similar (royal) name is found as yearname on RSM 49 (MU a-bi-a-lí-šu), see the comments by Langdon 1911 p. 238 n. 50 ; he takes it for a variation of Sumu-abum 10.

6-7. It is noteworthy that Anna-haqbum's name is once written with mimation and once with an elongated /u/.

1'-2'. I would expect the oath to be somewhere in these lines.

12'. Part of the yearname is obscured by an old sticker on the tablet. It looks like it was stuck on by museum staff in the past to catalogue it. I did not try to remove it out of the risk of damaging the tablet. Given the tablet's prosopographical connections to BM 108918 and BM 108925, it seems probable to me that the yearname is the same as on BM 108918, hence Yawium e (=Sumu-la-El 5).

¹⁻³ Speak to Sumu-abum, thus says Sassanatum.

^{1'-2'} Do whatever pleases you!

Comments:

4. The usage of bēli instead of bēl as the status constructus is unusual, but not impossible see GAG § 64a-c. The mentioning of Enlil seems to suggest that Sumu-abum was appointed at Nippur.

4-5. The title bēli ummanātīm has no parallels in any OB inscription that I know of. Closely related is perhaps Anam's title AB.BA UGNIM UNUG^{KI}.GA.KE₄ 'father of the army of Uruk' (RIME 4 E4.4.6.3:2-3).

6. Note the usage of /ga/ with the reading /kà/ in line 6 versus the normal /ka/ used on the left edge.

7-8. This is a stock phrase that is however usually found slightly different as: 'If you are my father and lord' (šumma bēlī ū abī atta).

9. The usage of the pronoun šī-ma in line 11 seems to suggest that Lalâtum is a feminine name. Another Lalâtum is found as the owner of a field in MHET II/5 666:3. In later dated Uruk texts (Rīm-Anum archive), Lalâtum is the name of a royal woman: Rositani 2003:138 no. II, 30:3.

10. The phrase DUMU a-mu-ri-im is interpreted as 'an Amorite'.

14. This name is puzzling and I know of no parallels.
