It would not have been possible for me to approach the end of the difficult Ph.D journey without numerous support and help I received during the past six years.

First of all, I'd like to thank China Scholarship Council for sponsoring me to pursue my Ph.D in Leiden University.

My unique and big 'hvala' (thank) goes to Jelena Spasic. She exemplifies what an excellent roommate would look like, and I was really fortunate to have her as my roommate since the very first day of my Ph.D until the end. She is really helpful and supportive whenever I need a favor. Academically, she is a diligent and smart girl. I benefit a lot from our technical brainstorm, through which many of my raw ideas are concretized, refined, and eventually distilled into the final publications. Additionally, I would like to show my gratitude to Milos Acanski, Jelena's husband, for the great times we had together. I believe that the friendship between us will never be evanescent regardless of geo-distance.

Working in the 'United Nation' (the embedded system group) was a pleasure experience because of my colleagues. Mohammad Al Hissi, Mohamed Bamakhrama, Emanuele Cannella, and Teddy Zhai, I really appreciate the assistance and advice I obtained from you guys, which paved the way for me to establish my inceptively academic insight. Also it has been a great pleasure to work with Tsvetan Shoshkov, Hristo Nikolov, and Sven van Haastregt, thank you. Sobhan Niknam, Peng Wang, Hongchang Shan, Christian Fuchs, and Erqian Tang, our new colleagues in the group, I wish you to go well with your own Ph.D journey.

I want to thank the following friends in LIACS for so many interesting talks and great moments. Song Wu, Yu Liu, Yanming Guo, Fuyu Cai, Yuanhao Guo, Xiaoqing Tang, Zhan Xiong, Hao Wang, Kaifeng Yang, Zhiwei Yang, Bilal Karasneh, Mohamed Tleis and Mohd Hafeez Osman.

In Leiden, I have been really lucky to make many terrific friends. I am grateful to Shenfa Miao for his help in many ways. I cannot remember how many times I knocked his door asking for help, never rejected. My appreciation also goes to Shenfa's family and thank them for being the friends of my wife and daughter. Peng Ye, Chenjie Xing, Jiaqi Zhao, Yang Liu, Zhiguo Zhou, Hui Liu, Jianbing Jiang, Wei Wang, Yaowang Li, Bo Wang, and Yihao Li. I would like to thank you for the help and happy times we had together.

I sincerely appreciate Dr. Nan Guan from Hong Kong Polytechnic University for offering a five-month visit to his group. Although the visit is transitory, I am impressed by his broad knowledge and benefited a lot from his kind guidance. This experience will definitely have a long-term impact on my career. My HK life was fulfilled with joy and laughter because of some new friends, Xu Jiang, Zhu Wang, Jinghao Sun, Yue Tang, Tao Yang, Xuxuan Zhou, Jun Wang, and Yujun Fu, thank you. I believe our friendship will never fade away.

I want to express the gratitude to my grow-up friend, Zhuozhou Qin. So many times, he came to the airport and picked me up no matter how later my flight was. A couple also gets my special thank, Qi Huang and Qian Ding (my dear panda). They always encouraged me to insist during the difficult Ph.D journey and provided many precious advice. In addition, I would like to thank them for their ‘luxury’ schedule, when I visited San Diego. When chatting in the living room, I really felt like that we were back to NWPU ten years ago.

Finally, I want to thank my family member for their unselfish support and patience, my brother-in-law Deqiang Huang, my nephew Chen Huang, my mother-in-law Yonghong Zhang, and my father-in-law Chugang Xiong. I am sincerely indebted to my sister Yun Liu, my mother Shixiang Yang, and my father Wenguang Liu. Without their unconditional support and continuous love, this thesis would not have been possible. In particular, I am very very grateful to my wife Yan Liu for being patient and kind to such an anxious PhD student. It was not an easy decision to start an unpredictable oversea journey with me, thank you for the sacrifice, love, and support. My little angel, Ruolai Liu, thank you for bringing many joyful times to our family. Your smiling face is my source of the courage, enabling me to overcome any difficulties during the journey.
