

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

The Agency of Empire: personal connections and individual strategies in the shaping of the French Early Modern Expansion (1686-1746)

Heijmans, E.A.R.

Citation

Heijmans, E. A. R. (2018, March 22). The Agency of Empire: personal connections and individual strategies in the shaping of the French Early Modern Expansion (1686-1746). Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61078>

Version: Not Applicable (or Unknown)

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61078>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cover Page

Universiteit Leiden

The handle <http://hdl.handle.net/1887/61078> holds various files of this Leiden University dissertation.

Author: Heijmans, E.A.R.

Title: The Agency of Empire: personal connections and individual strategies in the shaping of the French Early Modern Expansion (1686-1746)

Issue Date: 2018-03-22

The Agency of Empire

Personal Connections and Individual Strategies in the Shaping of the French Early Modern Expansion (1686-1746)

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van de graad van Doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van de Rector Magnificus prof. mr. C.J.J.M. Stolker, volgens besluit van het College voor Promoties

te verdedigen op 22 maart 2018 klokke 15 uur door

Elisabeth Heijmans

geboren te Tournai op 20 maart 1989

Promotores:

prof. dr. C.A.P. Antunes (Universiteit Leiden)

prof. dr. S. Marzagalli (Université Côte d'Azur, Nice)

Promotiecommissie:

prof. dr. J.J.L. Gommans (Universiteit Leiden)

prof.dr. J.B. Gewald (Universiteit Leiden)

dr. F. Ribeiro da Silva (Internationaal Instituut voor Sociale Geschiedenis, Amsterdam)

dr. C. Nierstrasz (Erasmus Universiteit Rotterdam)

Table of contents

Table of contents	1
Table of figures	5
Acknowledgements	7
Summary	9
Introduction	13
1. Conceptual framework	13
Connections and chartered companies	13
Agency and cooperation.....	16
Trans-imperial and cross-cultural dynamics	19
Revisiting the principal agent-problem.....	20
2. Research question and selection of case studies.....	21
3. Historiography.....	27
European expansion in India and on the west coast of Africa	27
French presence in Pondicherry and Ouidah	31
4. Sources.....	35
Chapter 1: When principals become agents	41
1. Introduction	41
2. French chartered companies operating in Pondicherry and Ouidah.....	42
3. Who were the metropolitan directors?.....	50
4. Upward social mobility and the Chamber of Justice.....	55
5. Safe investment? Institutional factors.....	60
First generation (1685-1701)	60
Second generation (1701-1718).....	65
6. Informal profits: personal market access.....	69
Guinea and East India Companies director: Vitry-la-Ville.....	69
Asiento Company directors: Legendre, Du Casse and Bernard.....	71
Asiento Company and the Saint Malo sub-contract director: Crozat	73
Asiento, East India Companies director and Saint Malo East India Company shareholder: Fontanieu.....	77

Saint Malo sub-contract director: Magon de la Balue	79
7. Conclusion	82
Chapter 2: Pondicherry's and Ouidah's political context	85
1. Introduction	85
2. Political guidelines and the French presence in Pondicherry and Ouidah	86
Pondicherry and the Coromandel Coast.....	86
Ouidah and the Bight of Benin	89
3. The French fort and factory in Pondicherry and in Ouidah.....	95
Pondicherry	95
The French fort in Ouidah.....	99
4. Sovereign powers	104
Tributary relations and delegation of sovereign powers.....	104
Asserting sovereignty.....	111
5. Conclusion	114
Chapter 3: Overseas directors as multilateral go-betweens.....	117
1. Introduction	117
2. Directors in Pondicherry and Ouidah	118
3. The bargaining power of actors and communities within the factories.....	127
4. Dependence on local commercial actors	132
Suppliers	133
Commercial brokers.....	135
Credit providers	137
5. From theory to practice: orders from France.....	140
6. Captains: Company, Navy and private traders	144
7. Conclusion.....	152
Chapter 4: Securing the position of overseas director.....	155
1. Introduction	155
2. Managing relations with changing political authorities	156
Competition and intermediaries.....	162
3. Finding funds.....	166
4. Relations with rulers, access to credit and managing private traders in Ouidah	175

5. Conclusion.....	184
Chapter 5: Inter-imperial cooperation	187
1. Introduction	187
2. European power dynamics.....	189
3. The means of cooperation.....	191
Good correspondence and exchange of services.....	191
(Non-) effects of war.....	194
Visits and collective action	199
4. The motives of cooperation	204
Emergency mechanism	204
Personal interest	208
5. The nuances of competitive interactions	212
Curtailling competition	212
Outside source of competition	216
Competition in inter-imperial trade	218
6. Conclusion.....	221
Chapter 6: Integrating regional trading networks	225
1. Introduction	225
2. Attempts at self-sustainability	227
“Le vaisseau est réputé français”	229
The south Atlantic connection	236
3. Preserving metropolitan connections.....	244
Intersecting interests	244
Local integration and interpersonal relations.....	250
4. Conclusion.....	256
Conclusion.....	259
Glossary.....	273
Currencies.....	274
Sources and bibliography	275
1. Manuscript sources	275
2. Published sources	278

3. Bibliography	279
Curriculum vitae.....	289

Table of figures

Figure 1.1. West African states and principal trading towns	46
Figure 1.2. Table of the directors of the Guinea/Asiento and East India Companies (1685-1719).....	53
Figure 1.3. Table of the shareholders of the Asiento Company and their investments in the Saint Domingue Company and the Royal South Sea Company.	58
Figure 2.1. Map of the eastern coast of South India, 1707	87
Figure 2.2. Table of political authorities and governors of the Deccan in Pondicherry (1674-1717).....	88
Figure 2.3. Map of the Bight of Benin	90
Figure 2.4. Graph of European slave trade voyages to the Bight of Benin during the first half of the eighteenth century	91
Figure 2.5. Graph of French slave trade voyages to the west coast of Africa during the first half of the eighteenth century	91
Figure 2.6. Table of political authorities in Ouidah	92
Figure 2.7. Map of Pondicherry in 1716	96
Figure 2.8. Representation of the Kingdom of Hueda and the European forts in 1725-1727	101
Figure 2.9. Representation of the European factories in Savi in 1725-1727	109
Figure 3.1. Table of the French directors in Pondicherry	119
Figure 3.2. Table of the French directors in Ouidah	123
Figure 3.3. Graph of East India Company and Royal Navy ships in Pondicherry between 1681 and 1709	145
Figure 3.4. Graph of Company, Royal and private ships in Pondicherry between 1681 and 1720	147
Figure 3.5. Graph of French Companies and private ships in Ouidah between 1714 and 1750	149

Acknowledgements

This dissertation would not have been possible without the innumerable encouragements and suggestions of people I crossed path with during the four years of my PhD. I am particularly grateful to my supervisor, Prof. Catia Antunes for her steady support and inestimable advice, for trusting me and my work, and pushing me further. I warmly thank my co-supervisor, Prof. Silvia Marzagalli for her patience, and her insightful feedback in record time. Thank you to both for leading me further on the path towards academic autonomy. For their invaluable opinions on chapter drafts and burgeoning ideas, I would like to give a special thank you to the ERC team members. I am grateful to Kaarle for his energy and his coaching expertise; Julie, for the stimulating discussions and Edgar, for his discerning advice. Thank you for your friendship and for keeping me sane during this PhD challenge.

I am also grateful to Jeannette for opening new perspectives and to my colleagues Kate, Erik, Joris, Bram, Sanne, Marion, Hasan, Matthias, Aniek and Byapti for their feedback, cooperation and friendship. Thank you to the numerous people who guided me through these four years, during workshops and conferences; Felicia Gottmann and Allan Potofsky for their encouragements and Lisa Hellman and Guido Van Meersbergen for their thorough and constructive proofreading. I am grateful to the members department of the stimulating environment and to my committee members for their time and their comments. I would also like to mention Rafaël for the last minute favours in the archive. I wish to thank the personnel of the multiple archives I visited whose help was instrumental to finishing my PhD dissertation.

My final thanking words go to my family and friends. Thies, thank you for being there all this time, for believing in me and preventing me from drowning in work. Merci à mes parents pour m'avoir guidée et soutenue tout au long de mes études, à Isabelle pour m'avoir encourager à poursuivre cette route. A mes frères et, particulièrement, ma grande sœur qui a pu être présente malgré la distance, merci pour votre accueil chaleureux lors de mes retours en Belgique. Merci à mes amies d'histoire et de secondaire, en particulier Mélanie et Aline qui ont tenu la distance de ces quatre ans et bien plus. Lastly, I want to thank Mariateresa, Hilmar, Suzanne, Ana, Maria, Merete and the many others for making Leiden sunny throughout my PhD.

