

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Banking on team ethics : a team climate perspective on root causes of misconduct in financial services

Scholten, W.W.

Citation

Scholten, W. W. (2018, March 29). Banking on team ethics : a team climate perspective on root causes of misconduct in financial services. Dissertatiereeks, Kurt Lewin Institute. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61392>

Version: Not Applicable (or Unknown)

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61392>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cover Page

Universiteit Leiden

The handle <http://hdl.handle.net/1887/61392> holds various files of this Leiden University dissertation

Author: Scholten, Wieke

Title: Banking on team ethics : a team climate perspective on root causes of misconduct in financial services

Date: 2018-03-29

Banking on Team Ethics

A team climate perspective on root causes
of misconduct in financial services

Wieke W. Scholten

I gratefully acknowledge the support and sponsorship provided by DNB, which enabled me to carry out this research.

Layout	Bianca Pijl, www.pijlldesign.nl, Groningen, The Netherlands
Cover design	Bianca Pijl
Printed by	Ipskamp Printing Enschede, The Netherlands
ISBN	978-90-828254-0-4 (print) 978-90-828254-1-1 (digital)

Available for purchase at www.wiekescholten.nl

© Copyright 2018 W.W. Scholten

All rights reserved. No part of this thesis may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form or by any means, without prior written permission of the author.

Banking on Team Ethics

A team climate perspective on root causes
of misconduct in financial services

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van
de graad van Doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van Rector Magnificus prof. mr. C.J.J.M. Stolker, volgens besluit van het College voor Promoties
te verdedigen op donderdag 29 maart 2018
klokke 15.00 uur

door

Wieke Willemijn Scholten
geboren te Alkmaar in 1979

To my father

Promotor

Prof. dr. Naomi Ellemers

Promotiecommissie

Prof. dr. Floor Rink (Groningen University)

Prof. dr. Femke de Vries (Groningen University)

Prof. dr. Eric van Dijk

Prof. dr. Wilco van Dijk

Table of contents

Acknowledgements	11
Introduction	13
Part I. Misconduct	19
1. Misconduct within banking: a current, continuous and serious problem	21
1. A current and continuous problem	21
2. Detrimental consequences	23
2. Investigating misconduct: conceptualization and context	27
1. Conceptualising misconduct	29
2. Clarifying the context: supervision of behaviour and culture	31
3. Clarifying the context: trading	34
3. Preventing misconduct: introducing a social psychological perspective	41
1. Causes of misconduct: bad apples versus corrupting barrels	44
2. Responding to misconduct: reactive versus preventive	48
Part II. Banking and financial supervisory practices	59
4. Introduction Studies 1 and 2: research questions and data sources	61
1. Team climates add a valuable perspective	61
2. Research questions Studies 1 and 2	62
3. Data sources Studies 1 and 2	63
5. Study 1: Current banking practices - teams are the blind spot	65
1. A bank's litigation report	67
2. A bank's internal investigation	73
6. Study 2: Initial financial supervisory requests - little effect	79
1. Requesting behavioural data	81
2. Requesting a root cause analysis	83

Part III. Identifying corrupting barrels: social psychological root causes of misconduct	87
7. Introduction Study 3: research question and data sources	89
1. Assessing team climates	89
2. Research questions Study 3	89
3. Data sources Study 3	91
8. Theory on team climate facilitating misconduct	93
1. Ineffective error approaches: denial, empathy and blame & punish	95
2. Outcome inequality: unequal relationships leading to perceived injustice and envy	103
3. Dysfunctional moral climates: neglect, inaction and justification	109
9. Study 3: Identifying team climate: assessing root causes of misconduct	115
1. Deep dive assessment of two trading teams	117
2. Corrupting Barrels survey	128
Part IV. Conclusions and practical implications for banks and financial supervisors	139
10. Conclusions and practical implications	141
1. Defining team climate: identify root causes of misconduct	142
2. Improving team climate: mitigate misconduct risk	144
2.1. Leadership is key	144
2.2. Improve the 'Corrupting Barrel' team climate characteristics	147
2.3. Conflicts to resolve	150
11. Limitations and future research	153
1. Strengths of this analysis	155
2. Limitations of this analysis	156
3. Opportunities for future research	158

References	161
Appendices	167
Appendix A: Two-pager on the assessment framework as used in this analysis	167
Appendix B: Requested documents for desk research	169
Appendix C: Interview format	170
Appendix D: Observation format	172
Appendix E: Survey	173
Appendix F: Separate survey items	176
Nederlandse samenvatting	181
Curriculum vitae	187

Acknowledgements

There are many people who I would like to thank. However, two of them were of essential influence and value: Naomi Ellemers, my supervisor and Frans-Jan van Laer, my husband. They therefore provide the head and tail of my acknowledgements.

It is a great honour to have worked with Naomi. Her clear guidance, paired with her creative thinking, was essential for applying insights to my work practice and innovative usage of data. Her enthusiasm and genuine care for my wellbeing kept me going. I have been very lucky to receive such high quality supervision.

I am grateful to Wijnand Nuijts at DNB for allowing me to do this research. I thank Suzanne Verheij for her help in using supervisory data, along with my DNB colleagues Jildau Piena, Melanie de Waal, Moritz Römer and Sophie Cohen Tervaert, who I hold dear.

Mirea Raaijmakers knows all I am discussing in this thesis without having to read it. The Corrupting Barrels model was born out of one of our great discussions. I cherish her friendship.

I thank Elianne van Steenbergen and Armin Cuyvers for their friendship and advice. I hold Elianne's positive attitude and balanced discipline as all-guiding examples.

Emma Sluman, Mirjam van den Anker and Wieke Leonhard were always there. I am grateful for their love and support. I thank Debbie Bent and Suzanne Vlek for sharing precious Leiden-memories; Yvonne Span for her interest; Anne and Frans Komen and Paulien and Thijs ten Bokkel Huinink for providing welcome distractions.

A working mother is in true need of others to get anything done. I am grateful to Inez van Laer and Aly Dijk for creating the necessary time and space for me to write.

The love and encouragement I received from my parents Arend Scholten and Netteke Schwartz are the pillars on which my life rests. Their interest in and commitment to my personal and professional development have given me fuel; their trust in me has given me courage. They have taught me the joy of learning. I hope I give the same to my marvelous daughters Hedi and Flo.

Finally, I am extremely grateful to Frans-Jan who is at my side in all I do. When I was at a dead end, he thought of new solutions. When I was frustrated, he comforted me. His intelligent suggestions and heartening actions have been of crucial importance to this work and to me.

Wieke

January 2018

