

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Time, History and Ritual in a K'iche' Community: Contemporary Maya Calendar Knowledge and Practices in the Highlands of Guatemala

Akker, P. van den

Citation

Akker, P. van den. (2018, April 24). Time, History and Ritual in a K'iche' Community: Contemporary Maya Calendar Knowledge and Practices in the Highlands of Guatemala. Archaeological Studies Leiden University. Leiden University Press, Leiden. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61632>

Version: Not Applicable (or Unknown)

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/61632>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cover Page

Universiteit Leiden

The following handle holds various files of this Leiden University dissertation:

<http://hdl.handle.net/1887/61632>

Author: Akker, P. van den

Title: Time, History and Ritual in a K'iche' Community: Contemporary Maya Calendar Knowledge and Practices in the Highlands of Guatemala

Issue Date: 2018-04-24

Time, History and Ritual in a K'iche' Community

Contemporary Maya Calendar Knowledge and Practices
in the Highlands of Guatemala

Leiden University Press

Archaeological Studies Leiden University is published by Leiden University Press, the Netherlands
Series editors: M.E.R.G.N. Jansen and H. Kamermans

Cover design: J.F. Porck
Lay out: J.F. Porck
Illustrations: P. van den Akker
Image editor: J.F. Porck

ISBN 978 90 8728 309 4
e-ISBN 978 94 0060 324 0
NUR 682

©Paul van den Akker / Leiden University Press, 2018

All rights reserved. Without limiting the rights under copyright reserved above, no part of this book may be reproduced, stored in or introduced into a retrieval system, or transmitted, in any form or by any means (electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise) without the written permission of both the copyright owner and the author of the book.

This book is distributed in North America by the University of Chicago Press (www.press.uchicago.edu).

Time, History and Ritual in a K'iche' Community

Contemporary Maya Calendar Knowledge and Practices
in the Highlands of Guatemala

Proefschrift
ter verkrijging van de graad van Doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van Rector Magnificus prof. mr. C.J.J.M. Stolker, volgens besluit van het College voor Promoties te verdedigen op dinsdag 24 april 2018
klokke 15.00 uur

door

Paul van den Akker

geboren te Vlissingen
in 1989

Promotor

Prof. Dr. M.E.R.G.N. Jansen

Co-promotor

Jun. Prof. Dr. F. Sachse (Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn)

Promotiecommissie

Prof. Dr. C.L. Hofman, decaan Faculteit der Archeologie (voorzitter)

Prof. Dr. J.C.A. Kolen (secretaris)

Prof. Dr. W.F.H. Adelaar

Prof. Dr. J.F. Chuchiak (Missouri State University)

Dr. E.B. Carlin

Dr. G.D.J. Llanes Ortiz

Contents

|                                             |           |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Acknowledgements                     | 9  |
| Introduction                         | 11 |
| Research Objectives                         | 11        |
| State of Research                           | 12        |
| Time, Ritual, and Cultural Continuity       | 14        |
| Contextualization of Fieldwork              | 18        |
| Structure of this Research                  | 23        |
| PART ONE: TIME CYCLES                | 25 |
| I. The Chol Q'ij – the 260-day count | 27 |
| Introduction                                | 27        |
| Calendar Specialists                        | 27        |
| Sacred Places                               | 29        |
| The Chol Q'ij                               | 32        |
| The Day-Lords                               | 34        |
| Numerology                                  | 35        |
| Calendar Divination                         | 38        |
| Time and the Human Being                    | 40        |
| The Nawal                                   | 43        |
| A Trecena Cycle                             | 43        |
| Becoming an Ajq'ij                          | 48        |
| The Calling                                 | 48        |
| The Training                                | 49        |
| The Renewal of Commitment                   | 51        |
| The Initiation                              | 52        |
| II. Time and Authority               | 59 |
| Introduction                                | 59        |
| The Authority of the Year                   | 59        |
| The Mam or Year Bearer               | 60        |
| The Veintenas                               | 63        |
| The Celebration of the Mam           | 65        |
| Ajaw Job' – The Authority of the Day        | 69        |
| The Temporal Organization of the Community  | 76        |
| A K'iche' Gregorian Calendar                | 80        |

|                                                       |                |
|-------------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| III. Seasonality and Celebrations              | 83      |
| Introduction                                   | 83      |
| Seasonality in the Maya Area                   | 85      |
| The Dry and Cold Period                        | 86      |
| Seasonal Characteristics                              | 86             |
| Celebrations                                          | 88             |
| The Preparation of the Milpa and Sowing        | 89      |
| Seasonal Characteristics                              | 89             |
| Celebrations                                          | 91             |
| The Rainy Season                               | 92      |
| Seasonal Characteristics                              | 92             |
| Celebrations                                          | 95             |
| The Canícula and the Second Period of Rain     | 96      |
| Seasonal Characteristics                              | 96             |
| Celebrations                                          | 98             |
| The Time of Harvest                            | 99      |
| Seasonal Characteristics                              | 99             |
| Celebrations                                          | 100            |
| Case Studies                                   | 101     |
| The Ritual de la quema                                | 101            |
| Holy Week                                             | 103            |
| The Day of the Holy Cross                             | 107            |
| The Patron Saint Feast of Santiago                    | 111            |
| The Solstice                                          | 112            |
| A Cycle of Feasts                              | 120     |
| Climate Change                                 | 121     |
| PART TWO: EL BAILE DE LA CULEBRA           | 123 |
| IV. Ritual Memory and History              | 125 |
| Introduction                                   | 125     |
| A Definition of the Baile de la Culebra        | 125     |
| Documentation of the Dance                     | 126     |
| Broader Contexts                               | 127     |
| Temporal and Spatial Contexts                         | 127            |
| Terminology of the Dance                              | 130            |
| Costumes Used in the Dance                            | 132            |
| History of the Dance                                  | 135            |
| The baile de la culebra in Momostenango | 137     |
| The Ritual Preparation                         | 138     |
| Around the 4th Friday of Lent       | 141     |
| The Greased Pole                               | 143     |
| Holy Saturday and Easter Sunday                | 148     |
| Variety in Narratives                          | 154     |
| Momostenango                                          | 154            |
| Joyabaj                                               | 154            |
| San Andrés Sajcabajá                                  | 154            |
| Rabinal                                               | 155            |
| Chichicastenango                                      | 155            |

|                                                                |                |
|----------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|
| San Bartolo and Pologua                                        | 155            |
| Santa Cruz del Quiché                                          | 155            |
| Santa Lucía Utitlán                                            | 156            |
| Historical Experiences in Ritual Dance                  | 156     |
| V. Symbolism and Continuity                         | 161 |
| Introduction                                            | 161     |
| Dancing and Whipping                                    | 163     |
| Dance as Sacrifice                                             | 163            |
| Bloodletting in the Past                                       | 165            |
| Sacrifice for the Community                                    | 168            |
| The Cycle of Life-Death-Life                            | 168     |
| Snake Symbolism                                         | 173     |
| The Guatemalan Highlands and Mesoamerica                       | 173            |
| Serpent Symbolism in the Past                                  | 178            |
| The Guardian of the Earth                               | 179     |
| The Prehispanic Complex of Mother Goddesses             | 183     |
| Central Mexico                                                 | 183            |
| The Maya Region                                                | 185            |
| The Snake Lady Vases                                    | 187     |
| Lady 9 Kan                                              | 190     |
| Discussion                                          | 193 |
| Bibliography                                        | 197 |
| APPENDIX A. Transcription of a Ceremonial Discourse | 209 |
| APPENDIX B. The Faces of the Days                   | 239 |
| APPENDIX C. Mnemonics for Ritual Discourses         | 245 |
| APPENDIX D. The Movement of Blood                   | 249 |
| APPENDIX E. Tzijolaj                                | 253 |
| List of Figures                                     | 254 |
| List of Tables                                      | 261 |
| Summary                                             | 262 |
| Nederlandse samenvatting                            | 264 |
| Curriculum Vitae                                    | 267 |

Acknowledgements

This work could not have been completed without the help of many people. Two persons need to be mentioned here in particular, don Rigoberto Itzep Chanchavac and doña María Hernández Ajanel, to whom I am extremely grateful. On my first day in Momostenango, they took me into their family and introduced me to all aspects of the K'iche' culture. Thanks to them and to their children, Bonampak Itzep Hernández, Ralankil Itzep Hernández, Nakshit Itzep Hernández, Gregorio Itzep Hernández and his wife Sheryll Calel Itzep, Momostenango became my home.

I also want to express my gratitude to Don José Ángel Xeloj, who shared his extensive knowledge of Momostecan history, ritual practices, the catholic church, the auxiliatura, and the K'iche' calendar with me and who invited me to several ceremonies. I also would like to thank all members of Takiliben May Wajshakib' Batz – Estela Hernández Vicente, doña Julia Hernández Vicente, Yessica Cojuix Ajanel, don Flancio Cuxuc, don Luis Torres, don Florentino Xiloj, don Juan Velásques Pelicó, and don José Hernández Marroquín – for supporting my research in Momostenango. Also Marleny Tzicap, Ricardo Zárate Guix, Gernot Zárate, Irma Hernández Ajanel, and Carlos Pérez Acabal have each contributed significantly to my understanding of Momostecan community life. Furthermore, thanks to don Leonso Lol, Francisco Lol, Luiz Lol, don Leon and all the Tz'ulab' dancers, I had the opportunity to experience the importance of dance in Momostecan K'iche' culture.

I am especially indebted to Julio Cotom, a great archeologist and friend, who always welcomed me in his home in Guatemala City upon my arrival. Julio introduced me to the rich archaeological heritage of the Highlands of Guatemala and persuaded me, together with Pierre-Louis Isidore, Marina Colín, Maritza García, to join the team that was leading the revitalization of the Museo del Occidente in Quetzaltenango. I have been fortunate to exchange thoughts with several prominent Ajq'ijab' and specialists from the Highlands of Guatemala. Among them are Elias López from Kajolá, doña María Theresa López and don José Arturo Cabrera Aguilar from Concepción Chiquirichapa, don Roberto Poz Pérez from Zunil, don Luiz Lux from Santa Cruz del Quiché, Francisco Juárez from Santa Eulalia, and don Ricardo Ignacio Vincente and don Miguel Sebastián Chan Juárez from Chichicastenango. David Mazariegos and Nicolás Mazariegos from the Kamalbe Language School in Quetzaltenango have contributed enormously to my knowledge of the K'iche' language. A special thanks to Anita Garr with whom I have spent many evenings discussing the K'iche' calendar and who has given me many valuable recommendations.

The research leading to this result forms part of the project 'Time in Intercultural Context: the Indigenous Calendars of Mexico and Guatemala' directed by Prof. Dr. Maarten E.R.G.N. Jansen (Faculty of Archaeology, Leiden University) and has received funding from the European Research Council under the European Union's Seventh Framework Programme (FP7/2007-2013) / ERC grant agreement n° 295434. I want to thank the European Research Council for the financial support which made this research possible. I would also like to thank Prof. Dr. Maarten Jansen, who has inspired me to pursue an academic career, and Aurora Pérez Jimenez, whose rightful critique on western science encouraged me to critically reflect on my own methodologies. Dr. Frauke Sachse invested hours in teaching me the K'iche' language and has been a great motivator throughout the entire process. I would like to thank all my friends and colleagues from the University Leiden, especially the members of the research project Time in Intercultural Context.

I wish to mention in particular here Alessia Frassani, who reviewed my first manuscript and provided me with an endless, but helpful, list of comments. Also Araceli Rojas, Ilona Heijnen and Ludo Snijders were always ready for an academic discussion during one of our many coffee breaks.

My family has always supported my interest in heritage and Latin America. I share my love for this region of the world with my parents, Everard van den Akker and Marjan de Bruijn, who introduced me to the beauty of archaeology, who took me on my first trip to Mexico, who recommended me to go abroad and learn Spanish, who encouraged me to study what I love, and who continue to support me in anything I do. This book is the result of everything you have taught me so far. Niels and Frederieke, my academic support and proofreaders, thank you so much! Roeland and Mariska, many new ideas were born during our late Saturday night talks. Emmelie, because of your endless range of interests I could discuss any topic with you. Panos Tantaroudas and Zanet Marouli, every time we meet you fill my mind with ideas, my stomach with food and my heart with love; what else could I wish for? Danai Tantarouda thank you for taking care of me, for inspiring me, for motivating me, for challenging me, for making me focus and work hard, for distracting me, for leading me, and for following me. This book could not have been written without your unconditional support. Finally, Hannes Geldof and Bruno Bodson, you made Latin America only more interesting, cliquiti.