Living with dialysis: patients' perceptions and outcomes
Thong, M.S.Y.

Citation

Version: Corrected Publisher's Version
License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden
Downloaded from: https://hdl.handle.net/1887/13526

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).
About the author
Melissa Thong was born on 5 April 1970 in Singapore. She obtained her Bachelor of Psychology at Edith Cowan University, Perth, Australia in 1996. She returned to Singapore and while working at the Singapore Corporation of Rehabilitative Enterprises, she obtained her international certification as a substance abuse counsellor in 1999. From 1999-2002, she worked as a psychologist in the Neurology department of the Singapore General Hospital. In 2004, she obtained her Master of Science in Health Psychology at Leiden University. She joined the Department of Epidemiology of Leiden University Medical Centre in 2005 as a junior researcher on the NECOSAD project. From December 2007, she is a researcher with the Comprehensive Cancer Centre South in Eindhoven, where she is involved with health-related quality of life issues associated with cancer survivorship.