

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Embedded remembering : memory culture of the 1965 violence in rural East Java

Leksana, G.T.

Citation

Leksana, G. T. (2020, May 26). Embedded remembering : memory culture of the 1965 violence in rural East Java. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/92258>

Version: Publisher's Version

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/92258>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cover Page

Universiteit Leiden

The handle <http://hdl.handle.net/1887/92258> holds various files of this Leiden University dissertation.

Author: Leksana, G.T.

Title: Embedded remembering : memory culture of the 1965 violence in rural East Java

Issue Date: 2020-05-26

Curriculum Vitae

Grace Leksana was born on August 7, 1980, in Jakarta, Indonesia. She completed her primary education in Jakarta in 1992, and secondary education in Jakarta in 1998. In 1998, she started her B.A in Psychology from Atma Jaya Catholic University, Jakarta, and graduated in 2004. In 2007, she received a fellowship from Nuffic to study in the Netherlands. She graduated in 2008 from the International Institute of Social Studies, The Hague with an M.A in Development Studies. After obtaining her Master's degree, she returned to Jakarta in 2009 and continued to work at the Indonesian Institute of Social History (Institut Sejarah Sosial Indonesia), where she became highly involved in the discussions of 1965-66 violence and history education. She was also appointed as a part-time lecturer at the Psychology Department of Atma Jaya Catholic university. In 2011, she moved to Malang and became an independent researcher affiliated to the Centre for Cultural and Frontier Studies (CCFS) Brawijaya University, Malang. In 2015, she received a KNAW grant to follow a PhD program on post 1965 memories in Indonesia at the Royal Netherlands Institute of Southeast Asia and Caribbean Studies/ KITLV and the Leiden Institute of Area Studies (LIAS) of Leiden University. She is also a fellow of the Netherlands Institute of War, Holocaust and Genocide (NIOD).