Curriculum Vitae

Edgar Pereira was born in Lisbon, Portugal, on the 21st June 1989. In 2009 he started the bachelor in History at the Faculty of Human and Social Sciences at the New University of Lisbon, Portugal, followed, in 2012-13, by the Master in History of the Early Modern Portuguese Expansion at the same university. His MA dissertation Pombalism, Jesuits and the Land on the Old Conquests. Confiscation and Redistribution of Landed Property on the Eighteenth Century Goa (1759 - 1777) was awarded the Marc Bloch Prize for best MA Dissertation in Early Modern and Modern European History 2015 by the European University Institute.

Starting in 2013, Pereira was a PhD candidate at Leiden University and a member of the ERC-granted project 'Fighting Monopolies, Defying Empires 1500-1750: a Comparative Overview of Free Agents and Informal Empires in Western Europe and the Ottoman empire. His doctoral dissertation was entitled A Contractor Empire. Public Private Partnerships and Overseas Expansion in Habsburg Portugal (1580-1640) under the supervision of prof. dr. Cátia Antunes and prof. dr. Regina Grafe. During his PhD, he completed the N.W. Posthumus Institute's Graduate Training Program, and taught Bachelor and Master Research Seminars at Leiden University. In the spring of 2020 Pereira will be a post-doctoral research at the KNIR (Royal Netherlands Institute in Rome), conducting research in Rome's archives for a future post-doctoral project, provisionally entitled: "Strange Bedfellows. Comparing and Connecting Danish and Portuguese Entrepreneurs in the Seventeenth Century Indian Ocean".
