About the author

Saskia Lensink was born on May 7th 1989 in Woudenberg, the Netherlands. She moved to Leiden to study linguistics, where she obtained her master's degree in 2014. She received a scholarship from the Landelijke Onderzoeksschool Taalwetenschap (LOT; the national research school in linguistics) to conduct her PhD on the on-line processing of lexical bundles at Leiden University. She furthermore received a scholarship from the Linguistic Society of America to attend the LSA Summer Institute at the University of Chicago in 2015. During her PhD, she was involved in several projects outside of her thesis topic, including studies on morphological priming, Spanish L2 learners, and computational stylometry. After finishing her PhD work, Saskia continued her career as a data scientist, where she continues working on statistical modeling, modeling language, and trying to make the world a better place. She is currently working at the Netherlands Organisation for Applied Scientific Research, TNO.
