I would like to give my sincere thanks to all people that have supported me throughout my PhD journey. I have met many people who have enriched this thesis in their own way.

I am greatly indebted to several people who contributed to my data-collection. Special thanks to Bu Iem Brown for generously allowing me to use her invaluable collections of Peranakan-Chinese journals. I thank Pak David Reeves and Mas Iskandar Nugraha and Prof. Charles Coppel who generously shared their knowledge on Chinese religion and Theosophy in Indonesia. My heartfelt thanks to the late Ibu Parwati Soepangat and Bapak Ananda Soeyono, Kwee Tek Hoay's family, Pak Marga Singgih, Esthers Zwinkels, Daito Norifumi, Jack Meng-Tat Chia and Bu Mona Lohanda. Many thanks to Gudny Rossen, Bhikkhu Kusalahamma, Mark Pollack, and Maria Lichtman, for reviewing my first draft.

My appreciation also goes to my peers in the Cosmopolis Project funded by the Leiden University Fund: Sander Tetteroo, Simon Kemper and Johny Kushyairi. Special thanks to Sander for your help in proofreading my draft and other consultations. Thanks also to the Department of History at Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM) for providing me with a workspace for my research and writing, for which I especially thank Mas Sri Margana and Mbak Rika Sayekti.

Marijke van Wissen-van Staden and Monique Erkelen deserve special thanks for their assistance during my first year in Leiden. I am grateful to Lili Evers and René Wezel who taught me Dutch with patience and dedication. Finally, for their sharp eyes and consultations, I thank my supervisors Jos Gommans, Bambang Purwanto and Carolien Stolte.

A warm thanks to all whose support and friendships kept me sane, especially the “Leiden Mafia” in Yogyakarta and my friends in the Netherlands: Ingrid, Ravando, Farabi, Pak Tjahjono, Bagus, Fajri, Abmi, Dhani, Nuril, Maarten Manse, and mas Wahid. To Sandra Rios and Fenna Dekker: thank you for making the Netherlands feel like a home. Thank you to my friends Betty Leung and Jerry Xu for always being there to support me especially during my fieldwork in Jakarta. Many thanks to my PhD friends from UGM, particularly the Keluarga Kecil group and Merry.

I enjoyed tremendous support from the Buddhist communities at the Vihara Karangdjati in Yogyakarta, the Vihara Dhammadipa Arama and the Kertarajasa Buddhist College in Malang. I cannot express enough gratitude to my teacher Bhikkhu Khantidharo for supporting me in educational pursuits.

To Robert and Kiro, thank you for always cheering me up and also for being present with patience, calmness and always encouraged me to focus on my work especially during the final stage.

This dissertation would have been impossible without the endless support and love of my beloved grandparents, my mother and stepfather, my siblings, nieces, nephews, and all keluarga besar Kaseman.

To my late father Samiran: I love you.
