Curriculum Vitae

Ruixuan Chen was born on November 12, 1987 in Rui'an, Zhejiang, China. He went to primary school (1994–1999), middle school (1999–2002), and high school (2002–2005) in Rui'an. At Fudan University in Shanghai, Chen obtained a BA in Chinese language and literature (2009) and was admitted to the MA program “Classical Chinese literature”, of which he dropped out (2010). With the help of a scholarship provided by Chinese government, he moved to Munich, where he studied Classical Indology, Tibetology, and Indo-European Linguistics at Ludwig-Maximilians-Universität. He obtained a MA within the traditional German system (i.e., Magister Artium) and graduated with first-class honors (2014). Since 2014, he has been employed by Universiteit Leiden as a PhD employee in Buddhist Studies, teaching undergraduate courses on Buddhism and Chinese literature. During his stay in Leiden, he has published peer-reviewed articles in Indo-Iranian Journal, Central Asiatic Journal etc., and read papers at a number of international conferences and workshops.
