Recto: work and inactivity of the gang, deliveries of fish and firewood. Special events: sending a letter to the vizier and the scribe of the mat, who are asked for grain rations, but write back about Meshwesh coming to Thebes; collecting and redistributing copper tools; court case involving the scribe Hri and $Tmn-w^c$; the latter(?) is to pay a fine; $Tmn-w^c$ is paid by the woodcutter Hnsw-ms for something he has obtained from the Rebu.

Verso: list of officials with numbers. Verso II: account of daily requirements of fish and firewood. Verso III-IV: list of workforce of the Tomb(?) in connection with a document given to the chief workman Nhw-m-Mw.t. Included are producers of fruit(?) and vegetables(?), transporters of stone, keepers of donkeys, and female servants belonging to gardens(?).

Recto I-IV: lists of workmen with portions of grain or water and totals. Some of the men are stated to be guarded, to have died or to have fled. Recto V and VI: the vizier(?) has the Tomb administrators swear an oath saying that they will not allow the workmen to leave (Western?) Thebes. He reads aloud a list of eight workmen, upon which the gang are dismissed and given something. Some (robbed?) gold and silver is found. Further events in the temple and granary of the goddess Maat involve the vizier(?), the Tomb scribe Hr-Sri and the eight men mentioned before. Recording the inactivity of the gang.

6.3.q Ramesses X

The entries record work at the royal tomb, inactivity of the gang, deliveries of temple cakes, charcoal, firewood, fish, plaster, pottery and sandals, distribution of grain rations, collecting tools. Inactivity is due to the presence of foreigners (h3s.t.y.w), and the delay of food supplies. Events: a matter between the mayor P3-wr-9 and the high priest of Amun; arrival by the high priest and the scribe; the transport of grain to the temple; the doorkeepers are sent to Thebes in order to fetch grain rations; the bringing of a letter from the high priest by the policeman Ns-Imn (the high priest urges the workmen to go to work, but the policeman tells them not to do so); the policeman is summoned because of this matter by the Tomb scribe H^{c} -m-hd.t and the scribe Pn-t3-hw.t-nht; working at the tomb of \mathfrak{I} -p3-t3w; the mayor P3-wr- \mathfrak{I} 3 brings a letter from the vizier; the workmen are brought "down" because of a matter of the smd.t; the scribes of the vizier are told that no Tomb personnel is put at their disposal; two workmen say that the vizier has taken some garments and wood belonging to King Ramesses IX; the gang is in Thebes in front of the officials and the high priest, who does not give them rations; rations are demanded from the scribe of the vizier; the gang are given rations from the temple of Montu(?); two fanbearers are given wooden chests and scribal equipment(?); work in the tomb of scribe Pn-t3-hw.t-nht; a special delivery of gold, silver, textile, oil and vegetables; searching for grain rations. Verso dockets: various deliveries dated to regnal years 3 (of Ramesses X) and 1 (of Ramesses XI). The older text on the recto includes the description of a statue.
