

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Cattle and colonialism: an animal-centred history of southern Africa, 1652-1980s

Glover, M.J.

Citation

Glover, M. J. (2021, November 23). Cattle and colonialism: an animal-centred history of southern Africa, 1652-1980s. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/3243289>

Version: Publisher's Version

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/3243289>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Cattle and colonialism:
an animal-centred history of southern Africa,
1652–1980s

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van de graad van doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van rector magnificus prof.dr.ir. H. Bijl, volgens besluit van het college voor promoties te verdedigen op dinsdag 23 november 2021
klokke 16:15 uur

door

Michael John Glover

geboren te Durban
in 1989

Promotores: Prof.dr. J.B. Gewald
Prof.dr. I. Phimister
Dr. H. Wels

Promotiecommissie: Prof.dr. M. Dekker
Prof.dr. S. Swart (Stellenbosch University)
Prof.dr. C. Foster (Oxford University)
Dr. A.F. Schrikker
Dr. D.J. Money

This dissertation is the result of a cotutelle agreement between Leiden University and the University of the Free State.

Foreword and acknowledgements

So many people helped me. Ian Phimister supported my research freedom with rigour and kindness, as did Harry Wels, who also argued back when I contemplated walking back some of the more ambitious approaches and lines of enquiry. Thank you both for reading every single word, penetratingly. Hearty thanks, Harry, for arranging for the thesis to be printed and the Dutch translation of the abstract. Thanks to Ruhan Fourie, Pieter Odendaal, and Mathilda Smit for the Afrikaans translation of the abstract.

Rebecca Swartz and Rita Amaral read my drafts closely and timeously, twice, and notably strengthened the thesis. You were both easy and pleasant to work with, thank you. Jan-Bart Gewald cheered on some unconventional ideas, early on. Ery Hill, your love and companionship was powerful and a major enabler. Thank you for talking to me through the darker spells, for some wonderful, epic raves, and for reading the entire text and designing the cover and back page so beautifully. Les Mitchell made very intelligent suggestions after reading the wagon labour chapter, and more generally was an attuned and uncompromising language consultant. Thank you, Les. Hannah Carrim kindly and helpfully read two chapters. Ilse Le Roux's administrative skills were a serious help, thank you so much. Maaïke Westra you also were a major administrative support. You were both so steady and pleasant to work with.

Travelling to six countries and across South Africa many times to hit archives and libraries was at times draining. Thanks to Russell Bruns and Holly Jerreat for hosting me in London twice, that was special, Cait Watson and Nicolaas Kroone for hosting me outside Amsterdam thrice, that too. Esta and Ben Levitas hosted me in Cape Town many times, graciously, Will Smyly and Shani Van Straaten in Kalk Bay, Tabitha Dillschnitter in Córdoba, Noddy in Pretoria, Aimée Nel and David Glover in the Bluff, Janice Glover in Kloof, Brett and Ruby in Waterfall, Bridget and Brian Hill in Pretoria, Tim Gabb and Justine Stewart in Muizenberg twice, epic, Mike van Rooyen and Sam Gabb in Clovelly, and Rob Watson in Cape Town. Marina Rust Evans, thanks for introducing me to your cow friends in Grabouw and for promoting the fieldwork possibility. Thanks to Niekie Rust for enabling me to do fieldwork on your family's Rietfontein reserve in the Karoo, and also to Renée for allowing me to photograph books in your excellent library. Anna and Ignus Vermaak were stunningly generous to me while I completed the bulk of the writing during very hard lockdown in Napier. Thanks to Mathilda Smit and klein Ava for hosting me in Bloemfontein and making my spell there as good as it could be. All of you were very kind, and bear mention.

This was an expensive, challenging project. The International Studies Group at the University of the Free State and The Oppenheimer Memorial Trust were my gracious, primary funders. Thank you. Jonathan Glover also supported me at key moments, thank you boetie. Zuid-Afrikahuis partially supported me during the final months in Leiden.

Archivists and librarians across southern Africa enabled my investigation, as did others abroad. In particular, Sadeck Casojee at the Library of Parliament South Africa industriously and generously found dozens of documents no one else could. Laureen Rushby is another stellar librarian, without whom the most challenging chapter could have been stillborn. Among others, thank you to Sthando Motikeng and Dorcas Chalashika at the Botswana National Archives, Bongiwe Mbhele at Killie Campbell Africana Library in Durban, Mosielle Edgar at the Lesotho Agricultural Library, Itumeleng Lekhetho at the Lesotho National Archives, Zofia Sulej and Gabriele Mohale at the Historical Papers Research Archive at the University of the Witwatersrand, Dorian Leveque at the British Library, Claire Welford-Elkin at Cambridge University Library, and Clive Kirkwood at the African Studies Collection at the University of Cape Town.

Finally, to the cattle, although we will probably never deserve to be among you, and though you will probably never know it, this one was for you.

Table of Contents

Foreword and acknowledgements.....	i
List of images.....	v
List of acronyms.....	vii
Nederlandse samenvatting .....	viii
English summary.....	ix
Introduction .....	1
Introduction.....	2
Rationales .....	5
Animals in histories.....	11
Animal agency.....	22
Methodology .....	31
Notes on language and terminology.....	42
Research questions and overviews of chapters .....	45
Chapter One: An introduction to cattle as subjects, and a brief history of cattle before southern African colonialism .....	51
Introduction.....	52
Cattle as experiential subjects .....	53
From aurochs to cattle in southern Africa: a history of domestication until the eleventh century .....	66
Pastoralism in southern Africa, the eleventh to the seventeenth century.....	74
Conclusion .....	82
Chapter Two: Oxen as colonial wagon labourers in southern Africa, 1653–1890s .....	83
Introduction.....	84
Oxen’s wagon labour: vignettes of subjectivity, 1653–1800.....	94
The expansion and demise of oxen’s wagon labour, 1801–c1890s .....	118
Conclusion .....	130
Chapter Three: Lungsickness, rinderpest, East Coast fever: eroded transhumance, veterinary expansion, and cattle as biomedical subjects, 1853–1920s .....	133
Introduction.....	134
Lungsickness in the Cape and pre-colonial Namibia, 1853–1904 .....	136
Rinderpest in southern Africa .....	149
East Coast fever and the emergence of dipping regimes.....	170
Conclusion .....	174

Chapter Four: A history of slaughterhouse development in the Cape, with reference to cattle’s experiences, 1652–1935.....	179
Introduction.....	180
Precursors to industrialisation: the VOC, the Shambles, and health disputes in the Cape, 1652–1890s.....	186
The South African War, mining contracts, legislation, and the emergence of industrial slaughter, 1890s–1914.....	203
Industrial slaughterhouses, cattle’s experiences, and new slaughter legislation, 1915–1935.....	219
Conclusion.....	253
Chapter Five: Colonial cattle breeding and its impact on cattle in South Africa, Swaziland, and Botswana, 1900s–1980s.....	255
Introduction.....	256
Pre-twentieth century cattle breeding context.....	259
Breeding societies, and Agricultural colleges and schools in South Africa, 1902–1920s.....	262
Colonial breeding regimes in Botswana and Swaziland, 1920s–1940s.....	268
The Bonsmara cattle breed and the human eugenics context.....	273
Modernised cattle breeding in Botswana and South Africa in the context of the global proliferation of FAI.....	285
Conclusion.....	304
Conclusion.....	307
Epilogue.....	313
Bibliography.....	323
Primary sources.....	323
Archives consulted.....	323
Archival materials.....	323
Official publications, and reports.....	326
Newspapers and periodicals.....	327
Secondary sources.....	327
Books.....	327
Book chapters and articles.....	334
Unpublished theses/dissertations and papers.....	347
Internet sources.....	348
Other (map, patent, speeches).....	351
Curriculum vitae.....	353

List of images

Image I.1.	Map of southern Africa, circa 1835.....	3
Image I.2.	Map of southern Africa, 1946.....	4
Image I.3.	Map of southern Africa, 2021.....	5
Image 1.1.	Young calf and mother, 9 October 2019 Matjiesfontein.....	56
Image 1.2.	Nguni adult female cow and calf, 30 September 2019, Matjiesfontein.....	57
Image 1.3.	Nguni cattle at sunset in the Karoo, 22 October 2019, Matjiesfontein.....	58
Image 1.4.	Nguni cow scratching her head on a branch, 26 September 2019, Matjiesfontein.....	60
Image 1.5.	Nguni cows lock horns, 9 October 2019, Matjiesfontein.....	62
Image 1.6.	Nguni cows lock horns, 9 October 2019, Matjiesfontein.....	62
Image 1.7.	From aurochs to modern cattle.....	67
Image 1.8.	Cattle and ovicaprine movement in north Africa.....	71
Image 1.9.	Drakensberg Escarpment.....	77
Image 2.1.	View from the front of a wagon.....	90
Image 2.2.	‘The Hottentots method of gelding their bulls and rams’ .....	95
Image 2.3.	William Burchell’s depiction of a wagon being dismantled to change a wheel.....	100
Image 2.4.	William Burchell’s wagon in 1815.....	101
Image 2.5.	Oxen wagon labourers at work at the Grand Parade, eighteenth century...	102
Image 2.6.	Thomas Baines’ depiction of the stick-through-the-nose method of riding cattle in South West Africa.....	108
Image 2.7.	Oxen pulling a missionary’s wagon.....	109
Image 2.8.	Charles Mitchell’s ‘State of Cradock’s Pass’ in 1840.....	112
Image 2.9.	Sketch of an oxen span and a light wagon, 1798, Anne Barnard.....	117
Image 2.10.	Oxen pulling trekboer wagons during Great Trek in Transvaal, anonymous.....	121
Image 2.11.	‘Bokwa’ or transport wagon.....	126
Image 2.12.	Nineteenth century transport wagon.....	127
Image 2.13.	Transport wagon advertisement.....	129
Image 3.1.	Lungsickness-positive cattle stands with extended leg postures.....	140
Image 3.2.	Map of the Colony of Good Hope, 1835.....	141
Image 3.3.	Tail inoculation via Louis Willems’ method in Europe.....	144
Image 3.4.	Cattle perishing from rinderpest, Vryburg 1896.....	153
Image 3.5.	Suspected rinderpest-positive cattle buried in trenches.....	156
Image 3.6.	Cannula in the late nineteenth century.....	162
Image 3.7.	Depiction of an ox who has undergone an early rinderpest flank vaccination in 1793.....	163
Image 4.1.	Plan of the Castle, fort and nascent town circa 1665.....	189
Image 4.2.	1764 map of Cape settlement, with butchery shown at block ‘G’ .....	190
Image 4.3.	Combrinck & Ross advertisement, 1870.....	196
Image 4.4.	Cold storage advertisement, 1879.....	203

Image 4.5.	British Army animal flesh contract tender advertisement, 1901.....	206
Image 4.6.	Cattle being flayed post-slaughter at a British Army camp.....	207
Image 4.7.	Dressed cattle at a British soldiers' camp.....	208
Image 4.8.	Sheep slaughtered on a Bultfontein farm.....	209
Image 4.9.	Public slaughterhouse design, Caledon 1915.....	220
Image 4.10.	Public slaughterhouse design, Oudtshoorn 1913.....	221
Image 4.11.	Public slaughterhouse design, Colesberg 1923.....	222
image 4.12.	Public slaughterhouse design, East London 1925.....	223
Image 4.13.	Public slaughterhouse design, Queenstown 1924.....	224
Image 4.14.	Public slaughterhouse design, Maitland 1928.....	225
Image 4.15.	Birkenhead medium-sized public slaughterhouse, 1887.....	227
Image 4.16.	Cheltenham small public slaughterhouse 1891.....	228
Image 4.17.	Electric cattle prod, 1917.....	230
Image 4.18.	Mechanical killers and illustrated killing pens.....	244
Image 4.19.	Small 'model' abattoir design.....	246
Image 4.20.	Large 'model' slaughterhouse design.....	247
Image 4.21.	Mechanical killer and casting pen advertisements.....	248
Image 4.22.	Casting pens for religious slaughter, advertisement.....	249
Image 4.23.	Casting pen for kosher and halal slaughter.....	251
Image 4.24.	Uitenhage proposed slaughterhouse alteration design, 1935.....	252
Image 5.1.	Friesland bull Admiraal Beatty.....	267
Image 5.2.	Shorthorn cow disparaged by Bonsma as a tropical degenerate.....	276
Image 5.3.	Jan Bonsma's depiction of fertile and sub-fertile cows.....	278
Image 5.4.	Jan Bonsma's depiction of fertile and sub-fertile bulls.....	280
Image 5.5.	Rear view depicting testes of fertile and sub-fertile bulls.....	281
Image 5.6.	Jan Bonsma's ideal Bonsmara bull, Noble Gentleman.....	282
Image 5.7.	Seven generations of cattle bred to be a Bonsmara.....	283
Image 5.8.	Inside of Lobatse slaughterhouse in 1965.....	287
Image 5.9.	Botswana Meat Commission in Lobatse, 1967.....	288
Image 5.10.	Bicycle generator FAI device used on a ram.....	298
Image 5.11.	Ghanzi forced artificial insemination centre, Botswana 1969.....	299
Image 5.12.	'Africander/improved Tswana progeny' born at Good Hope FAI centre.....	301
Image 5.13.	Imperator Mansa at Transvaal FAI centre.....	301
Image 5.14.	Simmenthaler cattle 'Hanf' at Transvaal FAI centre.....	302
Image E.1.	Greenhouse gas emission, acidification, eutrophication, and land use by food type.....	317

List of acronyms

ANT	Actor-network Theory
APRU	Animal Production Research Unit
AWSSA	Animal Welfare Society of South Africa
BMC	Botswana Meat Commission
CBI	Colonial Bacteriological Institute
CDA	Critical Discourse Analysis
CDC	Colonial Development Corporation
CDF	Colonial Development Fund
ECF	East Coast fever
FAI	Forced Artificial Insemination
JSCMB	Joint Slaughterhouses Committee Minute Book
MSC	Markets and Slaughterhouses Committee
PTSD	Post-traumatic stress disorder
RSPCA	Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals
SPCA	Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals
VOC	Dutch East India Company
WWF	World Wildlife Fund