CURRICULUM VITAE

Elena Nikiphorou was born on the 22nd of November 1979, in Nicosia, Cyprus. Supported by a scholarship, she moved to the UK to study medicine at University College London (University of London). She obtained her MBBS in Medicine in 2004, together with an Intercalated BSc in Physiology (2002), the latter supported by two awards and leading to a First-Class Honors degree. She undertook her rheumatology training in the East of England and additionally completed a Postgraduate Certificate in Medical Education at The University of Dundee, before returning to London. During her clinical training, Elena also took time ‘out of programme’ to complete a research degree in the UK, an MD (Res), followed by scientific fellowships in Finland (supported by EULAR) and Chicago (supported by The Royal Society of Medicine), further developing her research skills. These exposures and collaborations with senior colleagues in the field, were crucial in consolidating Elena’s desire to pursue a clinical academic career, leading also to several awards and the undertaking of this thesis at Leiden University Medical Center. She is currently a Consultant Rheumatologist at King’s College Hospital and in parallel, holds an Adjunct Senior Lecturer position and the Portfolio Assessment Lead position for the MBBS programme at King’s College London.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This is the moment to put in writing breathings from the heart. It's not an easy task; so much is held in the heart, no words are strong enough.

I wish to start by thanking my incredible promotor and mentor, Professor Désirée van der Heijde. An admirable woman for whom I have intense and unconditional admiration, love, and respect. Désirée, next to you I have 'grown'; you have inspired and touched my life in the most extraordinary way.

Professor Robert Landewé, my second promotor. Thank you for believing in me, for your guidance and support. Thank you for instilling enthusiasm for research and for stimulating my inquisitive thinking.

This Dutch family would not have been the same without a truly special person to me, my co-promotor and dearest of friends, Dr Sofia Ramiro. Sofia, a beautiful life is a collection of unforgettable moments, of which the two of us have shared plenty.

I am endlessly honoured that I have completed this work with inspirational people by my side, whose work ethos and infectious enthusiasm for what they do, are breath-taking. I am truly humbled to have worked closely with Professor Annelies Boonen, whose wisdom, kind, and humbling nature have been inspirational. I wish to extend my thanks also to Professor Bruno Fautrel, Professor Filip Van den Bosch and my dear friends Dr Alexandre Sepriano and Dr Anna Molto, with whom I have worked closely as part of this thesis. I also wish to thank my two paranymps, Dr Féline Kroon and Dr Casper Webers for their valued friendship and support. You are all treasured and part of my heart.

Beyond this thesis, but well within my heart, are people who have one way or another contributed to me fulfilling this piece of work. Professor Adam Young, it has been a true blessing that our paths crossed. Thank you for the wonderful supervision for my research degree in the UK and for consolidating my desire to pursue an academic path. You were one of the first to believe in me. I thank you and love you deeply for this.

Allow me to go further back, to the root of everything I have done to date and to thank my parents for their unconditional love and endless support; for making it all possible for me. Papa and mama, Panikos and Maria, words are truly not enough. Thank you.

I wish to finish by thanking my immediate family, starting with my husband, my 'rock' in life, George. George thank you for being by my side, throughout the good and the bad and for believing in me. Without you, none of this would have been possible. Last, but certainly not least, I wish above all, to devote this book to my five little (for now) musketeers: Alex, Manos, Evangelia, Orestis and Danae. I set off with the two of you and as I continued on my journey along, came the other three! Thank you for putting up with mummy's long work hours and for making you 'miss mummy' whilst away for work. I love you beyond words and want you to always remember, that where there is a will, there is a way.
