APPENDIX B: PARTICIPANT INFORMATION SHEET

Leiden University
Faculty of Governance and Global Affairs
Research Project Title: Europe as a Global Actor? Common Security and Defence Policy
Question and British and German Role
Name of Researcher: Filiz Doğan

This information sheet provides details of PhD research project called Europe “As a Global Actor? Common Security and Defence Policy Question and British and German Role”.

Aim of the Project:

The project focuses on analysing the European Union’s (EU) practices and performs to develop a strong Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP) regarding the role of main EU member states, namely Germany and the United Kingdom (UK).

Details of the interview:

The purpose of this interview is to ask you specific questions on CSDP issues. The interview will be between 30-45mins. The interview will be conducted face-to-face or via the internet, using Skype or telephone. The interview will be conducted by the researcher, Filiz Doğan. You will be asked a number of questions about your experience and profession in the security field of the EU. Participation in the research is entirely voluntary.

All information given will be treated in strict confidence and will be stored securely on the researcher’s personal computer, which is password protected.

The intended outputs from this research are to contribute to the completion of the researcher’s PhD project. The research findings will be presented within the researcher’s PhD thesis. It is envisaged that on completion of the research project, several academic publications and presentations will be developed from this research. Please note, that doctoral research will be available through Leiden University’s repository via the internet. This research has been approved by the Leiden University’s ethics committee.

If you would like further information on this project or have any questions regarding the interviews, please contact me or my PhD supervisors.
