Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Smart courts, smart justice? Automation and digitisation of courts in China

Papagianneas, S.

Citation
Papagianneas, S. (2024, September 3). Smart courts, smart justice?: Automation and digitisation of courts in China. Retrieved from https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4039574

| | |
|---|---|
| Version: | Publisher's Version |
| License: | Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden |
| Downloaded from: | https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4039574 |

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Smart Courts, Smart Justice?

Automation and Digitisation of Courts in China

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van

de graad van doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van rector magnificus prof.dr.ir. H. Bijl, volgens besluit van het college voor promoties

ter verdediging op dinsdag 3 september 2024

klokke 10.00 uur

door

Straton Papagianneas

geboren te Jette, België

In 1994

Promotores: prof. mr. dr. A.W. Bedner
prof.dr.mr. S. van der Hof

Copromotor: Dr. R.J.E.H. Creemers

Overige leden van de promotiecommissie: Prof. Dr. F.A. Schneider
Prof. Dr. Bart Custers
Prof. Dr. S. Trevaskes (Griffith University, Australia)
Dr. H.I. Huang
Mr. Dr. A.D. Reiling

©Straton Papagianneas 2024

Table of Contents

Table of Contents ..... iii
Acknowledgements ..... vii
Abbreviations ..... ix
List of Tables and Figures ..... x
Chapter One: Introduction ..... 1
1.1 Introduction ..... 1
1.2 Research Question ..... 5
1.2.1 Some Ground Rules ..... 6
1.3 Data and Methods ..... 7
1.3.1 Losing Access to the Field ..... 7
1.3.2 Introducing the Data ..... 9
1.4 Overview of Chapters ..... 12
Chapter Two: The Dual Nature of Law and Courts in China : Judicial Reform and the Role of Political Oversight ..... 15
2.1 Introduction ..... 15
2.2 The Dual Nature and Purpose of Law and Courts in the PRC ..... 16
2.2.1 Between a Rock and a Hard Place: The Judiciary's Position ..... 18
2.3 Judicial Reform Under Xi Jinping (2013-2022) ..... 20
2.3.1 Transparency and Credibility ..... 21
2.3.2 Consistency and Standardisation ..... 23
2.3.3 Accountability and Professionalisation ..... 24
2.4 Maintaining Duality: The Role of Oversight in Justice and Its Reform ..... 27
2.4.1 The Ideology and Functioning of Oversight in Justice ..... 27
2.4.1 Changes to Oversight Since the Judicial Responsibility Reform ..... 29
2.5 Conclusion ..... 34
Chapter Three: Smart Court Reform ..... 36
3.1 Introduction ..... 36
3.2 The Five-Year Plan for Information Construction at People's Court (2013-2017) ..... 37
3.3 Building Blocks: The Three Transparency Platforms ..... 38
3.3.1 China Court Trial Online ..... 39

3.3.2 China Judicial Process Information Online ..... 40
3.3.3 China Judgment Online ..... 42
3.4 First Experiments With Digital and Automated Justice (2015-2017) ..... 43
3.4.1 The SPC's Faxin Smart Push System (2016-2020) ..... 45
3.4.2 The Internet Courts (2017-2018) ..... 47
3.4.3 Shanghai High Court's 206 System (2017) ..... 49
3.4.3.1 Assistive functions ..... 50
3.4.3.2 Management functions ..... 50
3.4.3.3 Oversight functions ..... 51
3.5 Identifying Pain-Points and Key Tasks (2017-2021) ..... 51
3.5.1 The SPC Opinion on Accelerating Smart Court Construction (2017) ..... 52
3.5.2 The Five-year Development Plan for the Informatisation Construction of the People's Courts (2019-2023) ..... 54
3.6 Consolidation and Legal Framework (2021-2022) ..... 60
3.6.1 The Smart Court Rules ..... 63
3.6.2 Regulating Blockchain and AI in Courts ..... 69
3.6.2.1 The Opinions on Strengthening the Judicial Application of Blockchain (2022) ..... 69
3.6.2.2 The SPC Opinion on Regulating and Strengthening the Applications of Artificial Intelligence in the Judicial Field (2022) ..... 72
3.7 Conclusion ..... 74
Chapter Four: Ideological Foundations for Automation of Justice and Governance ..... 77
4.1 Introduction ..... 77
4.2 A Theory of Marxism-Leninism and Science and Technology ..... 81
4.2.1 Chinese Marxism and Scientism ..... 82
4.2.2 Inclusion, Monitoring, and Social Control ..... 83
4.2.3 Automation and Governance Modernisation ..... 85
4.3 Data and Methods ..... 86
4.4 Smartness as a Transformative Vehicle: Upgrading Service-Oriented Governance and Changing the Nature of Social Governance ..... 88
4.4.1 Improving Outputs: Holistic Versus Fragmented Governance ..... 90
4.4.2 Improving Inputs: Smartness, Democratisation, and Public Participation ..... 93
4.5 Issues in and Criticism of Smart Governance ..... 96
4.5.1 Technological Rationality and Dehumanisation ..... 96

4.5.2 Personal Privacy, Inequality, and Other Ethical Considerations ..... 98
4.6 Conclusion: Creating a Smart State ..... 100
Chapter Five: Towards Smarter and Fairer Justice? A Review of the Chinese Scholarship on Smart Courts ..... 103
5.1 Introduction ..... 103
5.2 An Evaluative Framework of Smart Courts ..... 104
5.2.1 The Judicial Reform Agenda ..... 104
5.2.2 Smart Courts in the Judicial Reform Agenda ..... 105
5.2.2.1 Efficiency ..... 105
5.2.2.2 Consistency ..... 105
5.2.2.3 Transparency and Oversight ..... 106
5.2.2.4 Judicial Fairness ..... 107
5.3. Data and Methods ..... 108
5.3.1 Retrieval Protocol ..... 108
5.3.2 Analysis ..... 110
5.4 The Chinese Scholarly Debate on Smart Courts ..... 110
5.4.1 Efficiency ..... 110
5.4.2 Consistency ..... 111
5.4.3 Transparency and Oversight ..... 113
5.4.4 Judicial Fairness ..... 116
5.5 Conclusion ..... 118
Chapter Six: Fairness and Justice Through Automation in China's Smart Courts ..... 121
6.1 Introduction ..... 121
6.2 Chinese Conceptions of "fairness" ..... 123
6.3. Data and Methods ..... 126
6.4. "Fairness" in Smart Court Reform ..... 127
6.4.1 Challenges of Reform ..... 128
6.4.2 Procedural Fairness Goals of Smart Court Reform ..... 130
6.4.2.1 Internal accountability ..... 130
6.4.2.2 Due Process ..... 133
6.4.2.3 External visibility ..... 135
6.4.3 Substantive Fairness Goals of Smart Court Reform ..... 137
6.4.3.1 Sustaining legitimacy ..... 137

6.4.3.2 Maintaining social stability ..... 138
6.4.3.3 User convenience ..... 140
6.4.4 Unifying Procedural and Substantive Fairness Goals ..... 141
6.5 Conclusion ..... 144
Chapter Seven: Automating Intervention in Chinese Justice: Smart Courts and Oversight Reform ..... 147
7.1 Introduction ..... 147
7.2 Data and Methods ..... 149
7.3 Automating Intervention: A Tale of Two Platforms ..... 151
7.3.1 The Jiangxi Provincial High Court Trial e-Management Platform ..... 151
7.3.1.1 The 'Trial e-Management' Platform ..... 153
7.3.1.2 Discussion ..... 155
7.3.2 The Yibin Intermediate Court's Full Process Automated Oversight Platform ..... 157
7.3.2.1 Reforming Oversight Procedures ..... 158
7.3.2.2 Digitising and Automating Oversight Procedures ..... 160
7.3.2.3 Discussion ..... 161
7.4 Drawing Justice into a "Digital Iron Cage" ..... 162
7.5 Conclusion ..... 165
Chapter Eight: Conclusion ..... 167
8.1 Introduction ..... 167
8.2 Implications for Scholarship ..... 170
8.3 Limitations and Future Avenues ..... 171
8.4 Readership and Relevance ..... 171
Summary ..... 174
Samenvatting (Summary In Dutch) ..... 180
References ..... 187
Appendices ..... 209
Appendix I: Overview of Relevant Official Documents ..... 209
Appendix II: Codebook Chapter Four ..... 214
Appendix III: Codebook Chapter Six ..... 217
Curriculum Vitae ..... 227

Acknowledgements

My Odyssean-like journey has finally come to an end. Even though I reached the shores of a finished Ph.D. alone, ragged, exhausted, and fortunately only four years older instead of twenty, this journey would not have been possible without the help of many people.

First, I want to thank my three supervisors, Dr. Rogier Creemers, Prof. Adriaan Bedner, and Prof. Simone van der Hof, for taking a chance on me and trusting me to get the job done. They provided invaluable feedback and advice and supported me throughout the process. They challenged me where necessary and often pushed me to do better. Specifically, I want to thank Dr. Rogier Creemers for being a great primary supervisor and mentor: he let me be the captain of my own ship, yet much like Aeolus, he knew when to give me a favourable wind in the right direction on multiple occasions. For this, I am grateful.

This dissertation is primarily the result of analysing textual documents. An endeavour that hardly requires much interpersonal interaction. Yet many people helped me make sense of the Delphian-like meanings in these texts.

I want to express my heartfelt thanks to Prof. Sue Trevaskes and Prof. Susan Finder. At times, it felt like they were also my supervisors. Both have read and given exhaustive feedback on parts of my work despite having no obligation to do so. Prof. Trevaskes, with her Athenian wisdom, helped me to wrap my head around difficult and abstract concepts. Prof. Finder provided invaluable documents and insider knowledge about the Chinese court system. In Ariadnean fashion, she helped me navigate the maze of Chinese bureaucracy. Multiple times during my research, both offered help, resulting in significant breakthroughs. Without their feedback, support, and advice, this PhD would not have been possible. For this, I am grateful.

Third, I am grateful to my fellow PhD candidates and colleagues at Leiden University. I was part of three different departments: the China Studies department at the Leiden Institute for Area Studies, the Van Vollenhoven Institute for Law, Governance and Society (VVI), and the eLaw Centre for Law and Digital Technology at the Law Faculty. Much like interdisciplinary research, finding one specific group I belonged to was difficult. At the same time, it allowed me to meet and interact with many people I would otherwise not have met.

Specifically, I want to thank all the VVI monthly writing group members, especially Nada Heddane, Hannah Bliersbach, and Hannah DeLacey, for the many interesting conversations about writing and academic research and for being overall great colleagues and friends. Thanks for the laughs (and Nutella). In addition, I want to thank Professor Eduard Fosch-Villaronga for being a great friend, housemate, and for the many impromptu late-night advice. For this, I am grateful.

Fourth, my friends and family. I want to thank Dr. Nino Junius, who also finished his PhD in the same year. Like Mentor, you are tenfold the academic scholar that many of us will ever be. Working with and learning from you was one of the highlights of my PhD. I consider myself blessed we went through the same ordeals.

I want to thank Maxime Leurquin. Loyal and helpful like Iolaus, some of the Herculean feats during this PhD could not have been possible without your help.

I want to thank Guillaume De Becker. Like Patroclus, you are my oldest friend and have known me the longest. Thank you for always being patient, reminding me not to take it all too seriously, and showing me there is life outside the academic bubble.

I want to thank Elisa Fradet. Even though our paths have diverged, you supported me through thick and thin during three years of my PhD and a global pandemic. I am grateful for having been able to share them with you and for our friendship now.

Last but not least, I want to thank my parents, Σταυρός Παπαγιαννέας (Stavros Papagianneas) and Helena Willems. Words are not enough to express how much I owe you. Thank you.

Finally, I dedicate this dissertation to my late grandmother, my γιαγιά, Ελένη-Ερμάνς Ναχνικιάν (Hélène-Hermance Nachnikian), who passed away on 11 February 2020.

Ξεκούρασε τώρα, πρέπει να είσαι κουρασμένη
Από όλα τα ταξίδια που έχεις κάνει
Από την Αρμενία στην Ελλάδα στο Βέλγιο
Ξεκούρασε τώρα, μπορείς να χαλαρώσεις τώρα
Γιατί είσαι πλέον σπίτι

September 2023

Abbreviations

| Abbreviation | Full name |
|---|---|
| AI | Artificial Intelligence |
| BIC | Beijing Internet Court |
| CCP | Chinese Communist Party |
| CCTO | China Court Trial Online |
| CCPC | Chinese Communist Party's Central Committee |
| CJO | Court Judgment Online |
| CJPIO | China Judicial Process Information Online |
| GIC | Guangzhou Internet Court |
| HIC | Hangzhou Internet Court |
| IT | Information Technology |
| ODR | Online Dispute Resolution |
| OLR | Online Litigation Rules |
| OMR | Online Mediation Rules |
| OOR | Online Operation Rules |
| SC | State Council |
| SCR | Smart Court Reform |
| SCS | Social Credit System |
| SPC | Supreme People's Court |
| WTO | World Trade Organisation |

List of Tables and Figures

Table 1: Overview of data and methods per chapter....11
Table 2: Changes between the Provisions and the final Rules....65
Table 3: List of identified themes and sub-themes ....127

Figure 1: The Smart Court Information System....58
Figure 2: The Smart Service System....59
Figure 3: Judicial Disclosure Platform....60
Figure 4: Unification of procedural and substantive fairness in smart courts....143