

Universiteit
Leiden
The Netherlands

Hope, destruction, and rebirth: acts of recovery in gender separatist feminist utopian literature

Anli, Z.

Citation

Anli, Z. (2024, September 6). Hope, destruction, and rebirth: acts of recovery in gender separatist feminist utopian literature. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4082491>

Version: Publisher's Version

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4082491>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

Hope, Destruction, and Rebirth:
Acts of Recovery in Gender Separatist Feminist Utopian Literature

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van

de graad van doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van rector magnificus prof.dr.ir. H. Bijl, volgens besluit van het college voor promoties

te verdedigen op vrijdag 6 september 2024

klokke 10:00 uur

door Zeynep Anli

geboren te Soke, Turkije

in 1986

Promotor:

Prof. dr. Frans-Willem Korsten

Co-promotor:

Dr. Liesbeth Minnaard

Promotiecommissie: Prof. dr. Barnita Bagchi (Universiteit van Amsterdam)

Prof. dr. Maria Boletsi

Prof. dr. Liedeke Plate (Radboud Universiteit)

Dr. Evert J. van Leeuwen

Acknowledgements

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to all those who have supported me throughout the process of this doctoral dissertation.

First and foremost, I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to my supervisors, Prof. dr. Frans-Willem Korsten and Dr. Liesbeth Minnaard, for their invaluable guidance, insightful feedback and endless patience. They helped me rebuild this dissertation at a moment where I felt stuck. Their expertise and encouragement were priceless in shaping this research project.

I am also deeply grateful to the members of my dissertation committee, Prof. dr. Barnita Bagchi, Prof. dr. Maria Boletsi, Prof. dr. Liedeke Plate, Dr. Esther Edelmann, Dr. Evert J. van Leeuwen and Dr. Katrine B. Smiet, for their valuable feedback and constructive suggestions, which will significantly enhance my dissertation. Special thanks go to the LUCAS department and community for their warm welcome and comradery.

I am forever thankful to my family for their unconditional love and support. Furthermore, I could not have managed to complete my doctoral studies without my small circle of chosen family in the Netherlands. Therefore, I would like to extend my gratitude to them as well.

In my heart, this dissertation is dedicated to my uncle and grandmother who made everything possible in the first place. Thank you for reading.

Contents

Introduction: Gender separatism in feminist utopian literature	5
Theoretical framework, corpus scope, and limitations	12
Reconstruction of the present: A working definition of utopianisms	19
An autonomous existence: The nuances of feminist utopianism.....	26
Feminist world-building: The characteristics of gender separatist utopianism	29
Chapter outline	38
1. Hope as theme and incentive for the creation of feminist utopian spaces	43
Recovering hope: protofeminist utopias before and after More's utopia	51
The so-called death of a utopian literary imagination and the rise of anti-utopianism.....	74
Feminist utopian hope in seemingly hopeless dystopias	81
Conclusion: Unearthing optimistic feminist utopianism	87
2. Destruction as a utopian cleansing mechanism	90
The theoretical origins of the destruction motif	95
Externalization of the motivations for destruction	110
Studying the past or establishing the myth	117
The hopeful potential of destruction.....	123
Conclusion: The benefits of destruction in relation to the utopian motif.....	131
3. Tabula rasa as a clean slate – or uncleanable slate	137
Tabula rasa, herstory, and historiography	138
From tabula rasa to tabula fixata.....	145
Tabula rasa vs the inscription of history: a case study	148
Matriarchal tabula ficta built on tabula rasa	157
Tabula rasa as an uncleanable slate	167
Conclusion: Seeking hope in the concept of tabula unerasable.....	183
Conclusion: Cruel utopianism and acts of recovery	186
Works Cited	199
Appendix I	205
Samenvatting	208
Curriculum vitae	211
Propositions	212