Over the years, I've often wished that the muses who inspired Plato could also guide me through the intricate labyrinth of Plato's philosophical thought. While I may not yet have reached the heart of Plato's philosophy, it is clear that without the invaluable assistance of these muses, I would never have had the opportunity to complete this work.

I am deeply grateful to my supervisors, Prof. Frans de Haas and Dr. Bert van den Berg, for their patient and insightful guidance throughout my doctoral journey. I also owe a great deal to Prof. Li Meng, whose encouragement sparked my initial interest in exploring the mysteries of Platonic philosophy. I want to extend my thanks to Dr. Li Jingjing for her warm and helpful advice during challenging times, and to my colleagues Dr. Liu Hao, Dr. Jin Da, Shi Yuanping, Chen Yi, and He Qinxin for their generous support and friendship.

I also wish to thank my dear friends Dr. Yang Wenhao for his caring support from afar, Dr. Zhou Xiaolong for his sincere concern, and Uri Scholten for showing me the lovely aspects of Dutch culture and history. My heartfelt appreciation goes to my family members, who have always been there for me unconditionally.

Lastly, I am thankful to the referees from the Doctorate Committee for their valuable feedback and critiques, and to Ms. Karineke Sombroek for her essential help with complex administrative procedures. The China Scholarship Council generously funded my doctoral program. Of course, any errors in this work are solely my own.
