Curriculum Vitae

Jolein Ilse Holtz (Leeuwarden, the Netherlands, 1994) obtained her Gymnasium diploma from the Stedelijk Gymnasium Leeuwarden in the Netherlands in 2011. From 2011 to 2015, she pursued her bachelor's degree in Dutch Law at the University of Groningen, with additional courses followed at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland (2014-2015). She continued her studies at the University of Amsterdam where she pursued an LLM degree in Public International Law (2017-2018).

From 2018 to 2019 she worked for the Center for International Environmental Law, a non-governmental organisation based in Geneva, first as a legal intern and subsequently as Legal Fellow of the Climate & Energy programme. During this time Jolein worked on the topic of human rights and climate change, looking at the intersection within UN rights bodies, as well as within the UNFCCC. In 2020, she worked with Not1More, a non-governmental organisation based in London, as a legal consultant. She contributed to their work in aiding the protection of environmental human rights defenders, with a particular emphasis on UN processes and fracking activists in the United Kingdom.

In September 2020 Jolein joined the Grotius Centre for International Legal Studies of Leiden Law School, Leiden University as a PhD Candidate. Here, she taught working groups, gave (guest) lectures, supervised L.L.B and L.L.M theses and conducted research for her PhD. This research, entitled Collective Human Rights as an (Onto)Logical Solution to Climate Change – Reconceptualizing, Applying and Proceduralizing an Overlooked Category of Human Rights was carried out under the supervision of prof. Daniëlla Dam-de Jong and prof. Carsten Stahn. During this time, she was a visiting researcher at the Centre for Climate Change Law and Governance, University of Copenhagen, for which she was rewarded a grant from the Leids Universitair Fonds.
