

Universiteit
Leiden

The Netherlands

Beauty in the Zongo: women negotiating religious co-existence in Accra's urban area of Madina

Khamis. K.

Citation

Beauty in the Zongo: women negotiating religious co-existence in Accra's urban area of Madina. (2026, June 2). Beauty in the Zongo: women negotiating religious co-existence in Accra's urban area of Madina. Retrieved from <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4305088>

Version: Publisher's Version

License: Licence agreement concerning inclusion of doctoral thesis in the Institutional Repository of the University of Leiden

Downloaded from: <https://hdl.handle.net/1887/4305088>

Note: To cite this publication please use the final published version (if applicable).

BEAUTY IN THE ZONGO

Women Negotiating Religious Co-existence in Accra's Urban Area of Madina

Proefschrift

ter verkrijging van de graad van doctor aan de Universiteit Leiden, op gezag van rector magnificus prof.dr. S. de Rijcke, volgens besluit van het college voor promoties
te verdedigen op dinsdag 2 juni 2026
klokke 13.00 uur

door

Kauthar Khamis

Geboren te Accra op 3 februari 1985

Promotores

Prof.dr. R.A. van Dijk

Prof.dr. B. Meyer (Universiteit Utrecht)

Prof.dr. M. Frederiks (Protestants Theologische Universiteit)

Copromotor

Dr. R.D. Ammah (University of Ghana)

Promotiecommissie

Prof.dr. M. Dekker (wetenschappelijk directeur Afrika-Studiecentrum/voorzitter)

Prof.dr. M.M.A. Kaag

Dr. C.L. Williams

Dr. A. Cassiman (Universiteit Leuven)

Prof.dr. A. Quayson (Stanford University)

DEDICATION

To my husband, Abdulai Adam Eliasu, and our daughters, Shefaat Nasara Abdulai and Naseebah Wunpa-a Abdulai, thank you for your love, support, motivation, and encouragement.

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	iv
LIST OF FIGURES AND MAP	vi
LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS	x
GLOSSARY	xi
INTRODUCTION	1
The Research Theme	5
Madina Zongo as a Place of Religious Co-existence	8
Beauty in the Zongo	12
Gender and Body	17
Cosmopolitanism	22
Religious Co-existence from a Gendered Perspective	24
Research Questions	29
Methods of Data Collection	30
Outsider/Insider	33
Research Ethics	38
Positionality	39
Notes on Language	41
Thesis Outline	41
CHAPTER ONE	43
Aesthetics and Ethics of Everyday Beauty Practices	44
Introduction	44
A Walking Tour	46
Negotiating the Aesthetics of Beauty	50
Ethics of Everyday Beauty Practices	60
Family/Kin	61
Religious Authorities	64
Engagement and Lefê Bride-Price Beauty Practices	68
Engagement Beauty Practices	70
Lefê Beauty Practices	73
Ethical Concerns of Engagement and Lefê Beauty Practices	75
Dealing with Fears Associated with Bride-Price Beauty Practices	79
Conclusion	82

CHAPTER TWO	83
Beauty Parlours: Potentially Dangerous but Inter-religious Spaces	84
Introduction	84
Material Religion: Same Fears, Different Strategies	87
Madam–Apprentice Relationship as Potentially Dangerous	94
Blessings and Curses	97
Beauty Parlours as Inter-Religious Spaces	108
Conclusion	113
CHAPTER THREE	114
Beauty and Piety: Cross-Religious Borrowing of Veiling Practices	115
Introduction	115
Religion and Modesty	117
Trajectories of Women’s Veiling Practices in Ghana	122
Duku	124
Mayafi	127
Hijab	132
Niqab	141
Beauty, Piety and Cross-Religious Borrowing of Veiling Practices	143
Conclusion	154
CHAPTER FOUR	155
Introduction	155
Vignette	155
Religious Counselling on Sexuality	158
Church Counselling	160
Mosque Counselling	168
The ‘Sweetness’ of Kayan Mata Counselling	172
Types of Kayan Mata	174
Libido Boosters	175
The Spiritually Fortified Kayan Mata	177
Bedianko	178
Beads	179
Kayan Mata Counselling on Social Media	184
Using Kayan Mata as a Weapon to Negotiate Patriarchy	189
The Sankofà , Boka and Juju Debates about Kayan Mata	193

Conclusion	196
CONCLUSION	198
Rethinking Women’s Beauty as a Modality of Religious Co-existence in the Zongo	198
Introduction	198
Beauty as a Gendered Construction	199
Religious Co-existence from the Gendered Perspective	201
Bibliography	206
Internet Sources	220
SUMMARY.....	223
SAMENVATTING.....	227
CURRICULUM VITAE.....	231

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Every research work needs the support of others in various ways to bring it to fruition. Throughout this research, a number of people have supported me. My sincere gratitude goes to my supervisors Birgit Meyer, Martha Frederiks and Rijk van Dijk; your criticisms, comments and advice were enormously helpful. I am grateful to you all for making the PhD research fruitful, making sure I felt at home in the Netherlands and making time for meetings both physically and virtually. Your visits to Ghana to check on the progress of the thesis and joining me on some field trips were really helpful. As a first timer in Europe, you all ensured that I felt comfortable while I was in Utrecht as part of my work. Birgit, thank you for the Madina Project and for giving an African scholar the opportunity to realize her dream. The conferences including ECAS, GSA, and NGG, where you encouraged me to present some papers have indeed contributed to making this thesis shine. Thank you for encouraging me to publish some articles which have already begun to build networks for me.

Also on the list is my supervisor, mother and mentor, Dr Rabiātu Ammah, who we affectionately call Auntie Rabi; Auntie Rabi, thank you for believing in me and taking keen interest in not just my academic trajectory but also personal life. Thank you for all the constructive comments; they have indeed helped to bring my thesis this far. My appreciation also goes to my informants in Madina, Muslims, Christians, and beauticians whose anonymity I have promised, for opening their doors to me and sharing a lot of insights with me; for some of these interlocutors, our relationship grew from that of a researcher–interlocutor relationship into friendship. This work would not have been possible without your cooperation.

This research trajectory not only gave me families and friends in Madina but also in Utrecht and Leiden. My colleagues on the Madina Project: Rashida Alhassan Adum Atta, Martin Luther Darko and Joseph Fiifi Fosu Ankra, thank you for taking time to read drafts of my thesis and for your insightful comments; thank you for your kind words, sharing of materials, and literally holding my hands throughout this journey. Also, to the scholars on the Religious Matters in an Entangled World: Margareet Van Es, Pooyan Tamimi Arab, Angelantonio Grossi, Erik Meinema and Shaheed Tayob, my sincere appreciation goes to all of you for taking time to read parts of my thesis and for making constructive comments.

Indeed, this work would not have been completed without the wise counsel from lecturers at the Department for the Study of Religions and senior members on the Madina Project: on this score, I am indebted to Dr Hussein Ibrahim, Alhaji Sulemana Mumuni, Dr Haruna Zagoon-Sayeed, Dr Fatimatu Sulemanu and Dr Enerstina Novieto. Others are Rev. Dr Grace Sintim Adasi, Dr Abena Kyere, Dr Cosmas Ebo Sarbah, Prof. George Ossom Batsa and Prof. Rose Mary Amenga-Etego, not forgetting others outside the Department for the Study of Religions including Prof. Kodjo Senah, Prof. Samuel Ntewusu, Prof. Johnson Mbila and Prof. Kwabena J. Asamoah Gyadu.

I would also like to express my sincere appreciation to my husband, Abdulai Adam Eliasu, and our daughters, Shefaat Nasara Abdulai and Naseebah Wunpa-a Abdulai, for their unwavering support during my PhD journey; I dedicate this thesis to them. To my mother, Hajia Salimatu Abubakar who has been pivotal in terms of her encouragements, prayers and taking care of our daughters while I was at home and abroad, as well as my brother, Ing. Faisal Khamis who has been my pillar since childhood and continues to support me in this academic journey, I am really grateful. To my sisters Madiha Tamim and Hajia Zenabu Abubakar, I am grateful to you for the interest you have shown in my development and constantly checking on the progress of the thesis. I also appreciate Lordina Ampah for taking time to edit my work chapter by chapter, and Charles Prempeh for engaging me in very constructive conversations about everyday life in the Zongo. Finally, I am indebted to Mr Samuel Asare-Bediako at Central University, Miosto Campus, Law Library, for offering me your library space to finalize my thesis.

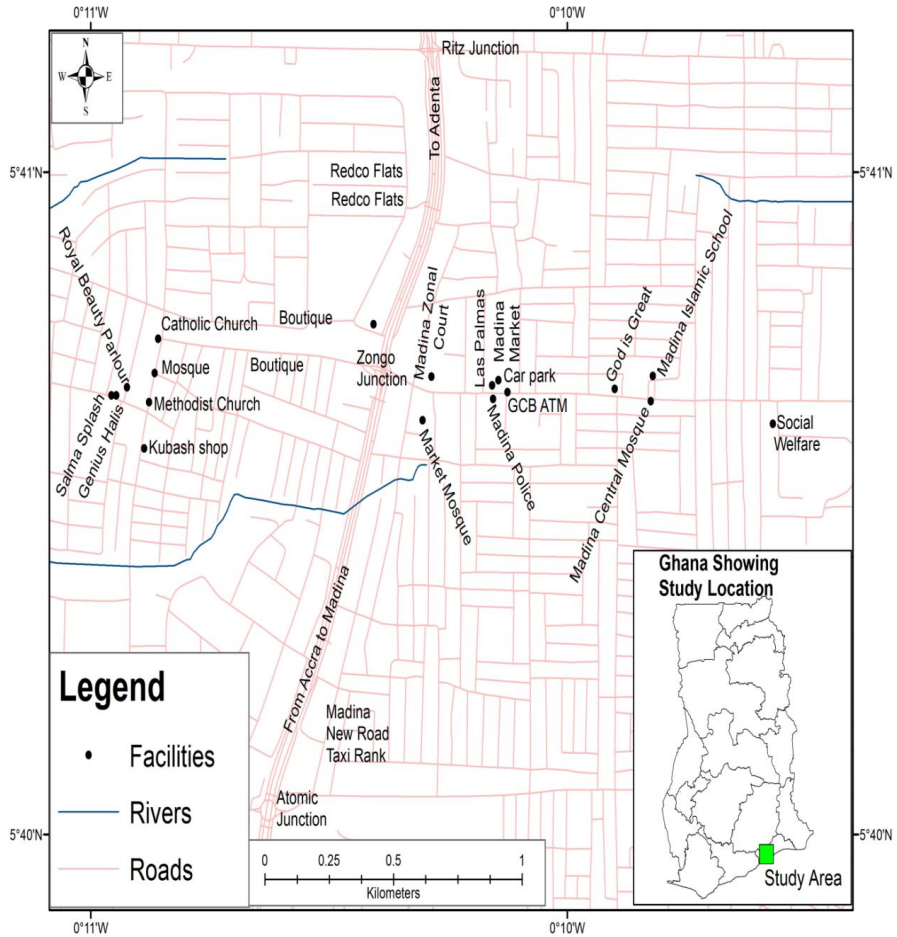

LIST OF FIGURES AND MAP

Map 1, A map of Accra showing Madina and its surrounding communities.....	viii
Map 2, A map showing some beauty sites in Madina Zongo.	ix
Fig. 1. Hajia Samira Bawumia.....	1
Fig. 2. Hajia Samira Bawumia with white nose mask	2
Fig. 3. An old picture of Evangelist Diana Asamoah.	7
Fig. 4. A recent picture of Evangelist Diana Asamoah.	7
Fig. 5. A picture of Madina Zongo Junction	11
Fig. 1.1 The Afripride Shop at the Madina Old Market Car Park.	46
Fig. 1.2 One of the makeshift beauty salons at the Madina Old Market Car Park.....	47
Fig. 1.3 An aphrodisiac shop along the Madina Old Market Road.....	48
Fig. 1.4 Muslim dresses on display at Kubash Collections at Madina Libya Quarters...49
Fig. 1.5 A wig shop at the entrance of La Nkwantanang Municipal Zonal Council.	50
Fig. 1.6. A Muslim woman braiding her hair with a woollen hair extension.....	53
Fig. 1.7 A Muslim bride and her make-up artist in a dressing room.....	61
Fig. 1.8 Malama Salamatu Tuahir Umar Kuta.....	65
Fig. 1.9 A groom giving a Bible to his wife at an engagement ceremony.....	71
Fig. 1.10 Lefé presented in three different sizes of suitcase.....	72
Fig. 2.1 Billboard of Anointed beauty salon.....	87
Fig. 2.2 Victory Ladies beauty Salon.....	88
Fig. 2.3 The Royal Beauty Parlour.	89
Fig. 2.4 Genuis Hali's, a beauty parlour owned by a Muslim beautician.....	90
Fig. 2.5 High Vision beauty salon.....	91
Fig. 2.6 Afua being blessed with talc powder in the sign of the Cross by Aunty Agi.100
Fig. 2.7 Certificate blessed by a pastor and a deaconess.	100
Fig. 2.8 Muslim apprentice being blessed by a Muslim Madam.....	102
Fig. 2.9 A group of Muslim men participating in sawkan Qur'ani at Salma Splash Studio.....	105
Fig. 3.1 A female dummy positioned at the main entrance of Khairia's Glamorous beauty parlour.....	119
Fig. 3.2 A Picture of heritage month celebration on Ghana Television.....	122
Fig. 3.3 A Muslim bride in gele	125
Fig. 3.4. Another gele style.....	126
Fig. 3.5 A turban style.....	126
Fig. 3.6 A photograph of the students of Nuriyya Islamic school in Nima, in the 1970's	128
Fig. 3.7 A newly married Muslim woman, wearing odasubo and mayafi	130
Fig. 3.8 Duku (left) and mayafi (right) designed in political colours.	130
Fig. 3.9 Firdaws @20 hijab.	135
Fig. 3.10 A public demonstration on need to allow Muslim women use their hijab in public institutions.....	138
Fig. 3.11 A Muslim woman in a niqab	141
Fig. 3.12 Members of the Women's Fellowship at the Victory Society Church in Madina in turbans.....	145
Fig. 3.13 A hijab -like face mask.....	148
Fig. 3.14 Corona hijab.....	149
Fig. 3.15 Head covers and their matching face mask.	151
Fig. 3.16 A focus group discussion with Muslim women at the Malam Yunus Mosque in Madina Zongo.....	150

Fig. 4.1 A flyer inviting people to the launch of a counselling centre.....	170
Fig. 4.2 Kayan mata herbs.	174
Fig. 4,3 Kayan mata concoction.....	174
Fig. 4.4 Honey mixed with some concoction.....	175
Fig. 4,5 Women’s chewing stick.....	175
Fig. 4.6 Amaria Candy.....	176
Fig. 4.7 Goron Tula.	176
Fig. 4.8 Kayan mata waistline beads.....	180
Fig. 4.9 An attraction oil.	180
Fig. 4.10 The blue-eye kayan mata beads.....	180
Fig. 4.11 Mirror kayan mata	181
Fig. 4.12 love padlock.....	181
Fig. 4.13 A screen shot from one of Hajia’s TikTok videos.....	187

Map 1, A map of Accra showing Madina and its surrounding communities. Photo retrieved from https://www.researchgate.net/figure/Map-of-Accra-showing-location-of-Madina_fig1_233266478 accessed 30 October 2025.

Map 2, A map showing some beauty sites in Madina Zongo. Map sourced from fieldwork

LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

AIDS	Acquired Immunodeficiency Syndrome
ASWAJ	Ahlu Sunnah Wal Jama
COVID-19	Corona Virus Disease-19
ECAS	European Conference of African Studies
F. D. A.	Food and Drugs Authority
G. S. A.	Ghana Studies Association
MIASA	Merian Institute for Advanced Studies in Africa
M. P.	Member of Parliament
N. D. C.	National Democratic Congress
NGG	Nederlands Genootschap voor Godsdienstwetenschap (Dutch Association for the Study of Religion)
NGOs	Non-Governmental Organizations
N.P. P	New Patriotic Party
STDs	Sexually Transmitted Diseases

GLOSSARY

Akekeduro: ginger, Twi language

Akwenkyia: a misfortune, Twi language

Aljani: jinns, Hausa language, also used in reference to evil spirits

Amaria: a new bride, Hausa language

Ashawo: a prostitute, Ga language

Atupa: loosely translated as 'sex', Twi language

Batakari: a traditional woven cloth used by the people of Northern Ghana

Bedianko: eat and get stuck (stay), Twi language

Beyi gro: another term for misfortune, Twi language

Boka: used in reference to magic, witchcraft and sorcery by the Hausa people

Buday Kay: a ceremony to mark the day a bride is presented with a beauty items and cooking utensils in her husband's house

Buta: ablution kettle, Hausa language

Daham: Arabian Gold used among the Hausa people in the Zongo

Daraja: honour, Hausa language

Dukur: a head tie

Gumama: second hand clothing imported from the Arab world

Hajja: a Muslim woman who has embarked on pilgrimage to Makkah

Jujir: magic

Kaba: a locally made blouse for women in Ghana

Kakaduro: ginger, Hausa language

Kanafari: cloves, Hausa language

Kayan Mata: women's things or women's property, Hausa language

Kente: a woven cloth used by people from the southern part of Ghana

Lefè: beauty items given by a prospective groom to a prospective bride as part of pre-marital preparation among the Hausa people in the Zongo

Malam: a male teacher, Hausa language

Malama: a female teacher, Hausa language

Mami Water: a mermaid who lives in the sea

Masoro: Guinea pepper, Hausa language

Mayafi: a veil, Hausa language

Odasubo: a type of duku

Omupe Lifè: meaning they like to look fashionable, Twi language

Osofò Guy Guy: a religious leader who is highly fashionable, Twi language

Raba Fada: to separate a fight, Hausa language

Sakawa: used in reference to internet fraudsters in Ghana

Sala: the Hausa name for Eid Fitr and Eid Adha

Sala Bills: expenses associated with beauty needs of women to mark Eid celebration in the Zongo

Sankofa: an adinkra symbol, which means going back to pick aspects of the Ghanaian culture that are still relevant in contemporary times

Tarea: a Hausa term, literally means to gather or accumulate. It refers to the items a bride accumulates in order to use them after marriage.

Trotro: popular term for public transport in Ghana

Twi: an Akan language, Ghana

Whentia: Guinea pepper, in Twi language

Yaayi: meaning 'is the same' in Hausa: a commemorative cloth to mark a marriage ceremony

Zongo: a community largely inhabited by Muslims